South on the move . . .

"I find the great thing in this world is not so much where we stand, as in what direction we are moving."

Oliver Wendell Holmes

Any school that stands still is not responding to the purpose for which it was created. South is not standing still. South is on the move. Just as the world has advanced to satisfy man's basic desire for betterment, so has South striven to meet its students' need for excellence. Enthusiastic support of the team during our football victory over Kapaun, the first in South's eight-year history, plus the 200 car Homecoming caravan were results of the Colonel's increased participation for the improvement of their school.

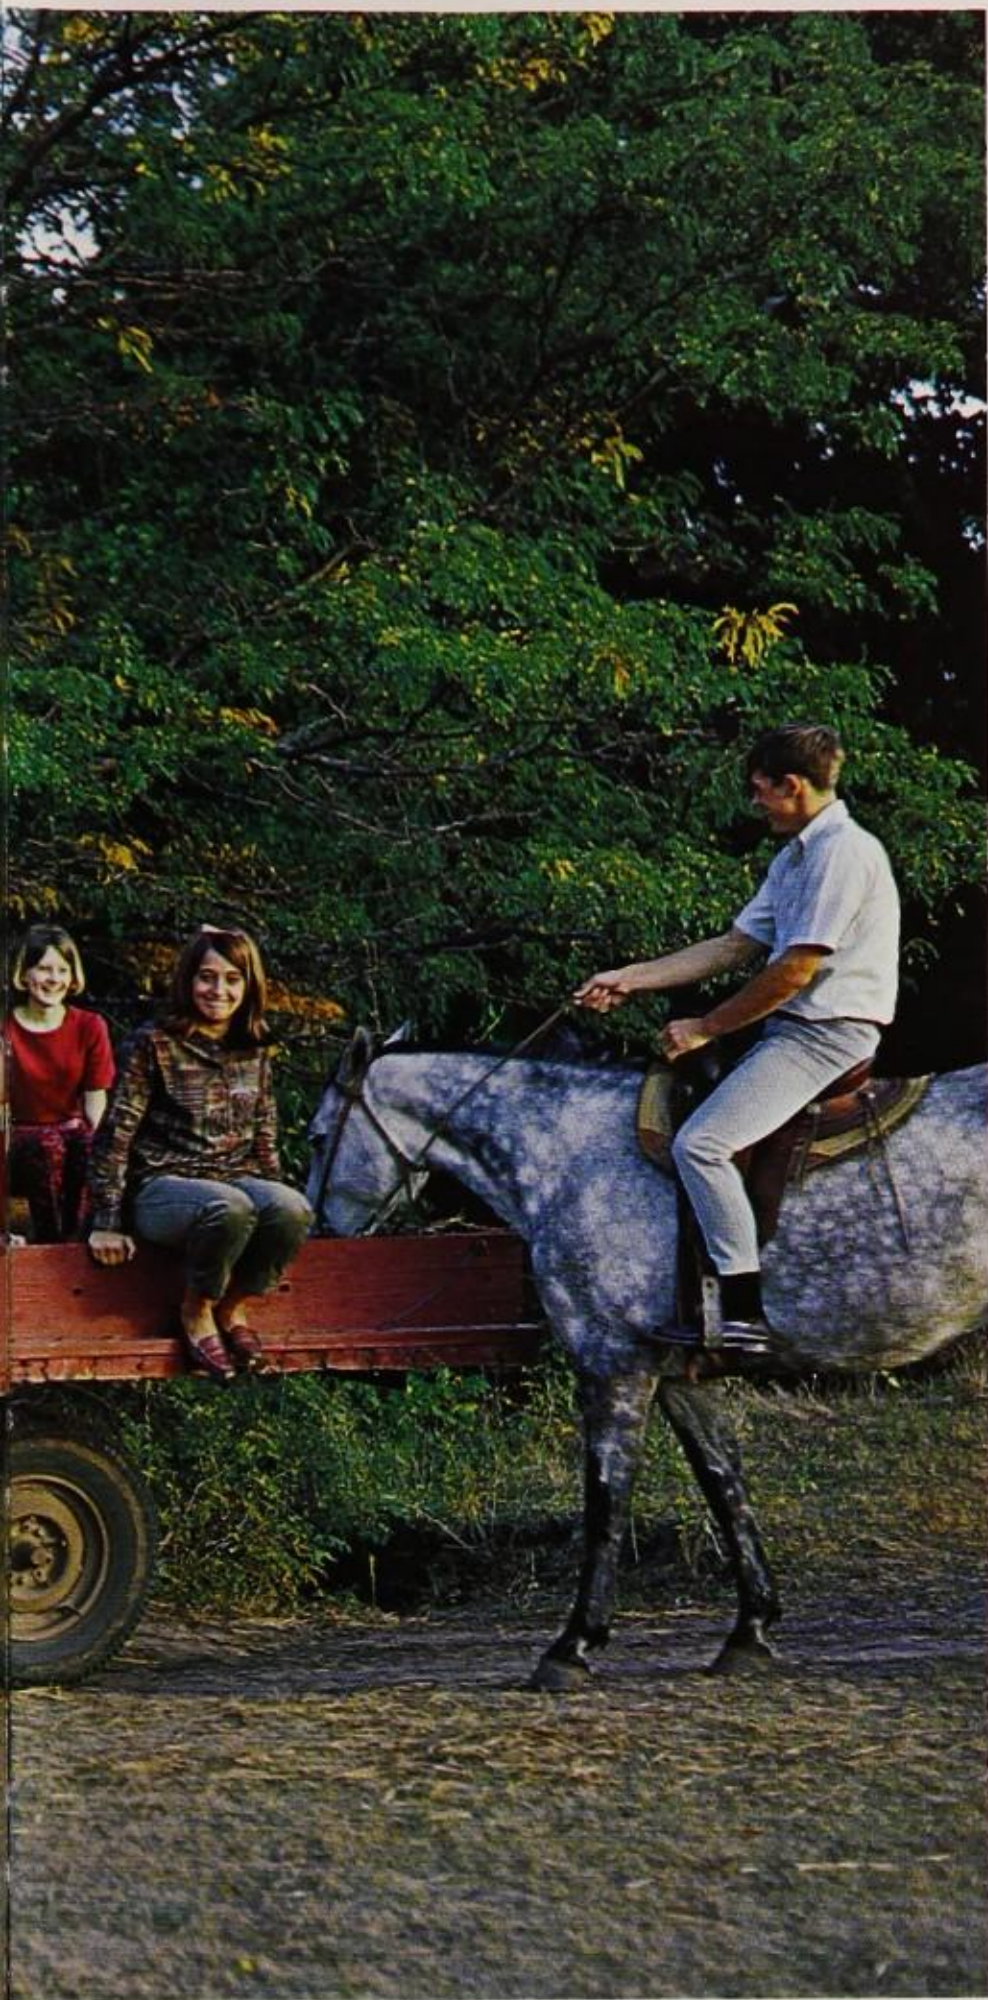

As the world has expanded its frontiers, South has pioneered in an unprecedented program of education for the blind. The administrators were not the only ones to initiate a new direction of development; the students themselves undertook the successful and difficult production of "West Side Story."

Experiences of the 1966-67 year must not be allowed to become just memories, however. They must become the source of motion which propels each student in new and exciting directions.

STAFF

NOT content with accepted concepts of teaching, our administrators and faculty were constantly striving to improve themselves so that they might be better equipped to mold the futures of their students.

Dr. Ralph A. Pyles, Principal

Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Pyles enjoyed a pleasant evening at home with their son, John, a senior at North High, daughter Mrs. Ann Flores, and grandchildren Laurie and Michael Flores. Not pictured was their other son Ray, a junior at Kansas State College, Pittsburg.

Dr. Ralph Pyles, principal, (left), and his twin brother, Dr. Ray Pyles, culminated the end of a busy day as they watched the victorious South-Kapaun football game.

Dr. Shepoiser, superintendent of schools, and Dr. Pyles discussed school policies during one of Dr. Shepoiser's visits to South.

Principal—Board Cooperated in meeting immediate, future needs

Under the experienced leadership of Superintendent Lawrence Shepoiser, the Wichita Board of Education efficiently supervised over one hundred public schools. Voters of Wichita approved a $15 million bond issue which will provide for needed buildings.

Each of South High's eight years has presented a special challenge to its principal, Dr. Ralph Pyles. Last fall for the first time, Dr. Pyles spoke to the student body in an assembly concerning school spirit. A school principal is naturally involved in civic affairs, but Dr. Pyles also lent his ability to such organizations as the Boy Scouts of America and Grace Methodist Church. Serving on the executive board of Quivira Council and acting as advancement chairman for District 8 were only two of Dr. Pyles' responsibilities to the Scout program. When not occupied with Scouts or school, our principal acted as a member of the official board at Grace Methodist Church. In his more leisurely summer-time hours, Dr. Pyles and his family traveled to Alaska, where he combined a personal visit with a tour of the Alaskan school system.

Board of Education—Seated: Mrs. Ruby Tate, Harry O. Lytle Jr., Dr. Charles M. White, President, Mrs. Edwana Collins. Standing: John M. Michener, Lawrence H. Shepoiser, Robert L. Davis, Patrick H. Thiessen, Dr. James Donnell, Mrs. Carter Goodpasture, Dr. Gary N. Pottorff, Mrs. Evelyn Whitcomb, William T. Busch, Vice-President.

Administrators

Were involved in each phase of southern life

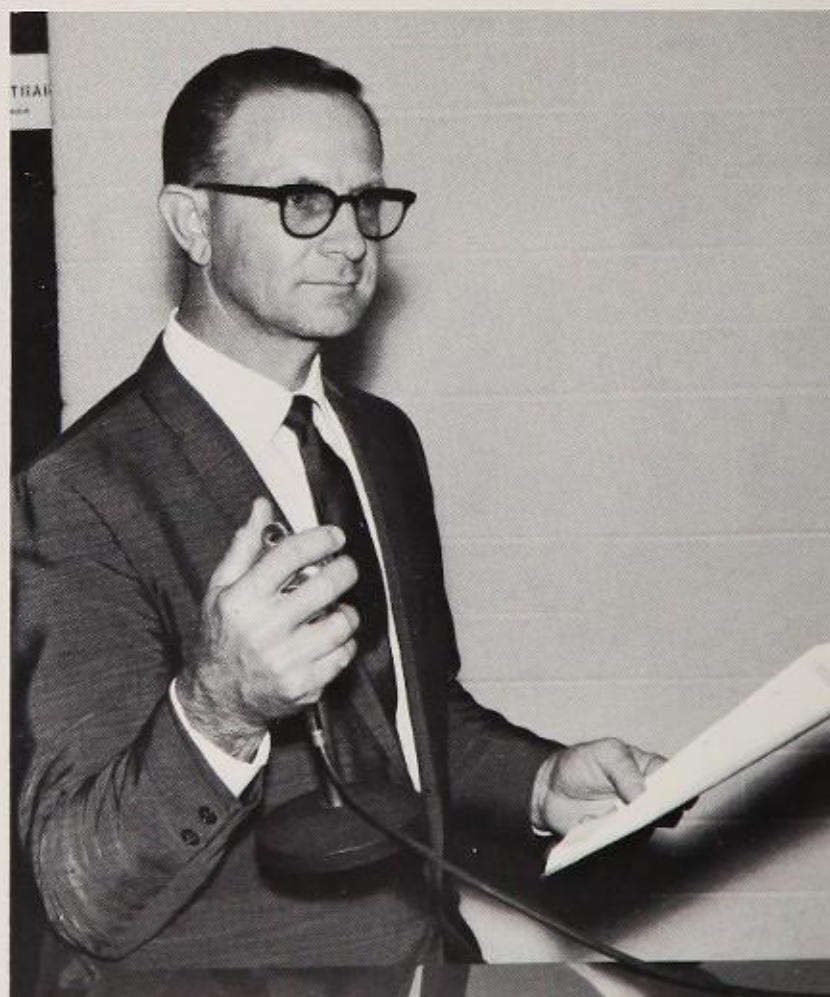

Although often seen checking decals in the South High parking lot, assistant principal Harold Stiles also was concerned with other aspects of school life. In addition to liason work with the IBM offices, Mr. Stiles compiled master as well as student schedules and assisted with disciplinary problems. Working with Mr. Stiles on student discipline was Henry Claassen, also assistant principal. Reprimanding pupils was not his only concern, however, for Mr. Claassen also worked closely with the Student Government and its officers. When not involved in school activities, both men enjoyed being outdoors. Besides camping, Mr. Stiles was an avid photographer and fisherman. Mr. Claassen actively participated in the American Association for the United Nations and in Phi Delta Kappa.

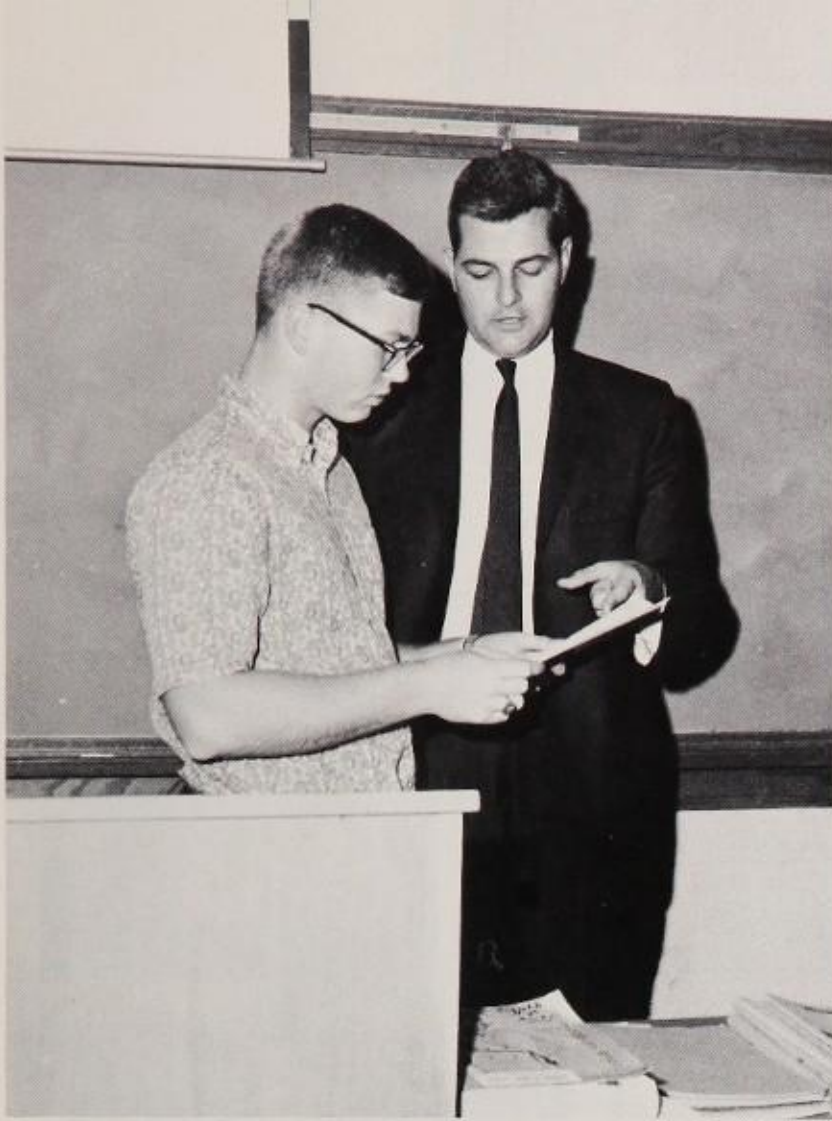

Harold Stiles, B.A., M.E., Assistant Principal.

Mr. Stiles and Mr. Claassen helped spread the yuletide spirit as they hung the traditional mistletoe in the office.

Henry Claassen, B.S., M.S.; Assistant Principal.

Jerry Martin, senior, discussed possible plans for attending Columbia University with college representative Donald R. Klein.

Counselors

Helped in establishing norms for national test

Helping set up nation-wide norms for an aptitude test and participation in diversified summer activities kept the counselors and the guidance department moving ahead, aware of progress. Along with Wichita High Schools West and Southeast, South was singled out to assist in the standardization of the Otis Lenson Mental Ability Test. Mr. Gerald Morrison, counselor coordinator, was involved in administering the test and selecting 175 students from each grade level at South to whom the test was given. The summer of Mr. Dorth Hibbs, junior counselor, was occupied with the task of co-editing the Air Capital Football Preview magazine. Miss Lorene Stone and Miss Thelma Gatley, senior and junior counselors respectively, attended a two-week counseling session on family relations in Los Angeles, California.

Gerald Morrison, B.S., M.E.; Guidance Coordinator; enjoys fishing, photography, wood-working.

Dorth Hibbs, B.S., M.S., Ed.S.; Junior Counselor; coached Little League baseball team last summer.

Counselors Gerald Morrison, Thelma Gatley, Dorth Hibbs, and Lorene Stone debated over new ideas for an Explorer Post during an informal session.

Office Staff

Set example for city in IBM procedures

Answering telephones and filing attendance records occupied valuable time, but they were not the only responsibilities of an efficient office staff. With the city-wide conversion to IBM processing, methods developed by the staff for procedures of enrollment and attendance were adapted for use in all city schools. Participation in an exchange of two office practice students with West High School initiated a new program of cooperation between the schools. Although there were no personnel additions in the office, a modern Apeco copying machine greatly simplified duplicating techniques for books and papers.

Mrs. Freema Deck, switchboard operator.

Mrs. Velma Aldridge, attendance clerk.

Mrs. Gladys Cooper, Dr. Pyles' secretary.

Mrs. LaVeeda Stabler, Neighborhood Youth Corp clerk.

Mrs. Juanita Kisner, treasurer.

Mrs. Opal Faulk, registrar.

Mrs. Wanda Kuhns, assistant registrar.

Mrs. Louise Downing, nurse.

Mrs. Mary Maxfield, clerk-typist.

Mrs. Dorothy Cook, study hall adviser; Mrs. Theresa Stewart, teacher's aide; Mrs. Edith McCurley, library aide.

Cafeteria Staff—Seated: Gladys Denny. Standing: Johnny Williams, Wilma Gilliland, Ozia Maple, Lucille Beaver, Faye Travis, Grace Hutchison, Maudie Woodward, Violet Bailey, Hazel Balzer, Gertrude Penix, Doris Simpson, Jessie Geary, Grace Wallace, Doris Hinshaw, Julia Vanderheiden, Jessie Donalson, Bessie Woods.

Service Staff

Served balanced meals; cleaned grounds, school

Working diligently for long, hard hours and solving their share of problems, the cafeteria staff prepared well balanced meals for the student body. Additions to the staff this year were Mrs. Elinor Chase, cook, and Johnny Williams, porter. The janitorial staff also was busy during the year. Keeping the school building running smoothly and maintaining the neat, attractive look of the grounds required that the staff be on constant call. One of the staff's jobs was made faster and more efficient with the help of a new scrub machine. This machine washed, rinsed, and then absorbed the water.

Kenny Kisner, head custodian.

Mrs. Flossie Robbins, matron.

Gladys Denny, cafeteria manager.

Language Arts

Increased reading skills; pioneered Braille program

Teachers new to the language arts department were Mrs. Helen Harmon, Miss Marcia Willoughby, and Mrs. Virginia Moss. Two of these were replacements, the third, an addition to the staff. Mrs. Doris Smith, teacher of the Braille Resource Program, provided a class in which students learned to read and write braille. South, the only Wichita high school to have this program, has a library of over 350 braille books. Mrs. Robert Crow experimented with a developmental reading program using a new reading machine and other materials to upgrade the reading rate, comprehension, and vocabulary of the students in the program. More interest in drama and debate was seen by greater enrollment in those classes.

Mrs. Arlene Lipnicky, B.A.; Special Education; enjoys reading, cooking.

Bill Wolf, A.B.; English II, III, IV; enjoys reading.

Mrs. Ida Walton, A.B.; Librarian; collects rocks.

Margaret Oliver, B.S. in L.S., M.S.; Library Coordinator; taught library science courses last summer.

Dieter Daub, B.S., M.A.; Language Arts Coordinator, German I, II, III, IV; German Club; director and principal of a Foreign Language League campus in Austria last summer.

Mrs. Berniece Pender, A.B.; English II, Speech I, IA; Senior Class; enjoys bowling, golf, swimming.

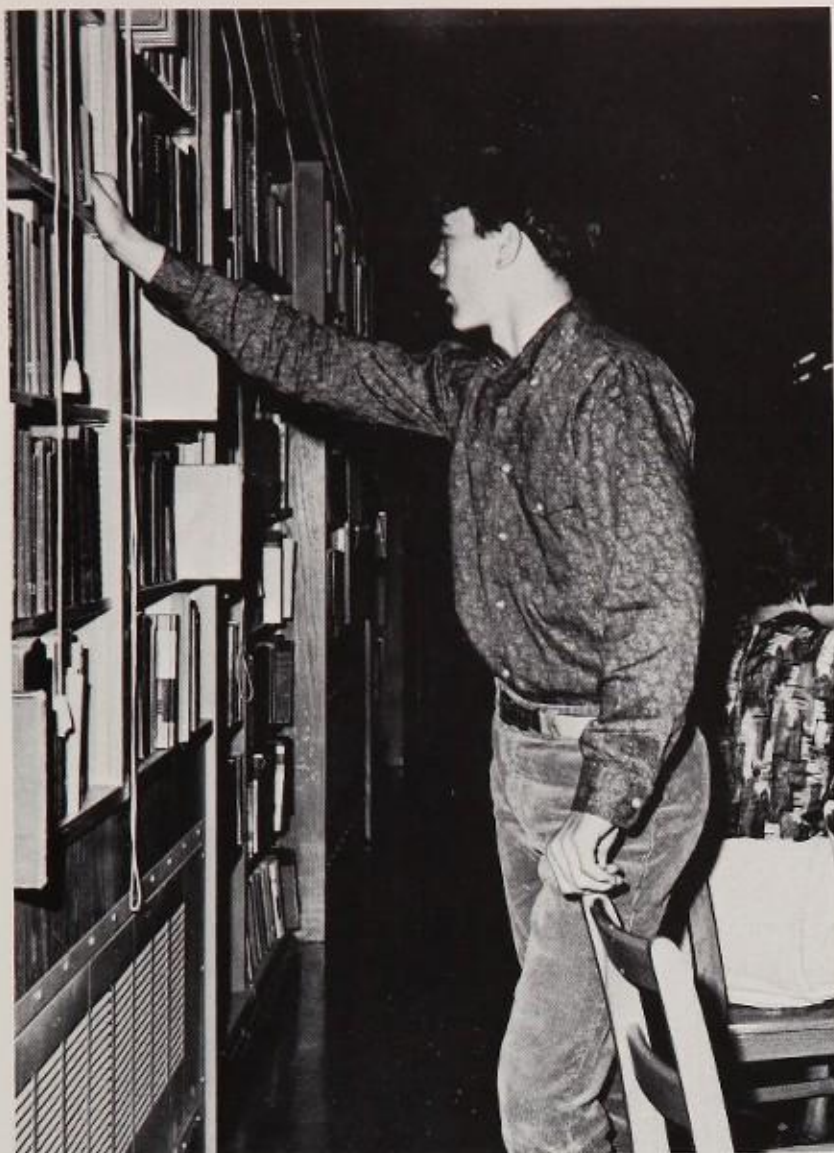

Dennis Wright, B.A.; Speech I, IA, Debate I, II; National Forensic League; working on masters degree.

Robert Crow, B.S., M.S.; English III; Student Government; enjoys traveling, fishing.

South's first braille student, Susan Haller, was assisted in a reading lesson by her teacher Mrs. Doris Smith.

Southern sports editors Pat Blanchard and Bill Trarbach worked together to complete the sports section.

Karen Pyles, B.A., M.A.; English II, Drama I, II; Plantation Players, National Thespians, Drama Director; taught dancing last summer.

Mrs. Madelyn Winget, B.S.; English II, IV; enjoys painting, traveled to Mexico last summer.

Richard King, B.A., M.A.; English III, IV, English Literature; enjoys music.

Mrs. Lois McPherron, B.A.; English III, IV, English Composition; Savant; hopes to complete masters degree soon.

Pat Story, B.A., M.A.; English II, III, English Composition; Junior Class; visited Mexico last summer.

Mrs. Lillian Baldwin, B.A.; English III, IV, World Literature; Red Cross; trains dogs.

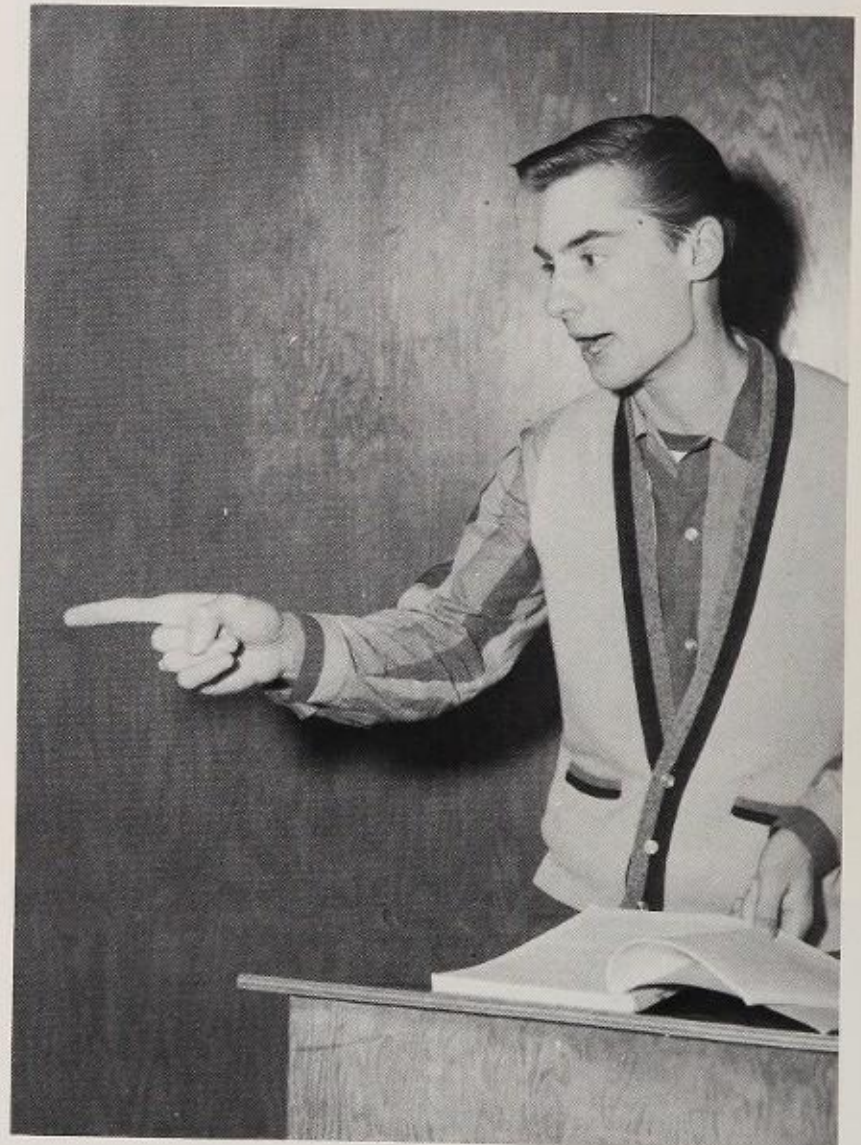

Mrs. Betty Dillon, B.A.; English II, III; Junior Class; working on masters degree.

Susanne Shaw, B.S.; Journalism I, II, English II; Sabre, Southerner; spent last summer working on a newspaper.

Dennis Haas found humor in the topic assigned by his English Composition teacher.

Marcia Willoughby, B.S.; English II, III; co-sponsor Savant; writes, paints in spare time.

Mrs. Helen Harmon, B.A.; English III, IV; Future Teachers of America; enjoys traveling.

Mrs. Alice Anderson, B.S.; English II, III; Future Teachers of America; spent 7 weeks at NDEA English Institute in Nebraska last summer; enjoys oil painting, antiques.

Mrs. Virginia Moss, B.A.; English II; enjoys painting.

Third year French students Diane Lantz and Toni Popp worked on their first theme assignment.

Foreign Languages

Chaperoned pupil tours; organized language club

Included in the progress of the foreign language department were a number of facets of development. French students began the Jeunes Americains de la France Club, an honor club, the first in South's history. Meetings were conducted entirely in French around a chosen theme. This year, German teacher Mrs. Zenobia Washington experimented with the Chilton audio-visual method of teaching. A new Spanish teacher, Miss Judy Phipps, was a replacement in the department. During the summer, a study grant was awarded to Mr. Roland Curzydlo for the study of Spanish at the National Defense Education Act Institute in Mexico. Mr. Dieter Daub was principal of a Foreign Language League school in Austria, and Mrs. Washington chaperoned a group of South High students in Austria.

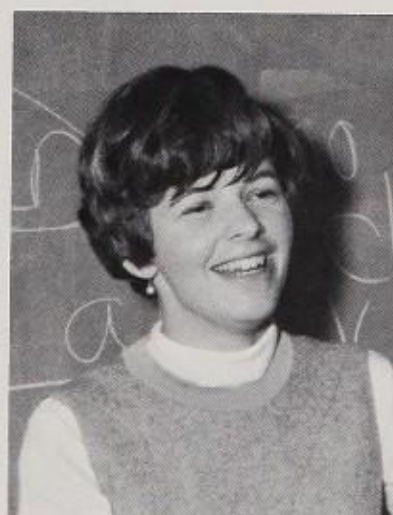

Sophomore Ron Clements experienced a new challenge as he gave his first oral report in Spanish II.

Roland Curzydlo, B.A.; French I, II, III, Spanish III; French Club; studied at institute in Mexico last summer.

Mrs. Ann Brewer, A.B., M.E.; English II, Latin I, II; Latin Club; interested in genealogy, traveling.

Judy Phipps, B.S.; Spanish I, II, Study Hall; Spanish Club; spent last summer in Mexico.

Mrs. Zenobia Washington, B.A.; English III, German I, II; German Club, Y-Teens; traveled to Austria last summer.

Business

Acquired new equipment; initiated duplicating class

"The business department of South is now comparable to the business department of any college," stated Mr. Gordon Prieb, business coordinator. This statement stems from the fact that over $20,000 worth of equipment was purchased for the department. New Electronics Future Incorporated equipment was installed in shorthand classes to enable individual students to take dictation at different speeds. Office Machines Duplicating, a new vocational course, was added to the curriculum of the department; the course taught students to stencil, duplicate, and bind any article which they might wish to print. The class offered on-the-job training and was the first of its kind in the state of Kansas.

Gordon Prieb, B.S., M.S.; Business Education Coordinator, Typing I; spent last summer camping in Rocky Mountains.

Jack Hemphill, B.S.E.; Distributive Education, Introduction to Business; Distributive Education Club; enjoys swimming, hunting, coin collecting.

Learning by doing, office practice students Diana Gray and Brenda Hooper duplicated papers for a busy teacher.

Mrs. Lovetta Russell, B.A.; Office Practice, Secretarial Training; Office Practice Club; enjoys swimming, reading.

Gene Lee, B.S., M.S.; Bookkeeping; Junior Class; worked as insurance adjuster during summer.

Gordon Morse, B.S., M.A.; Bookkeeping A, Business Arithmetic, Accounting; Senior Class; umpired softball last summer.

Elsie Olson, A.B., M.B.A.; Salesmanship, Business Communications; Red Cross; traveled last summer.

John Pote, B.S., M.S.; Typing II, Office machines; likes to bowl, enjoys traveling.

Jack Kinderknecht, B.S.; Office Machines Duplicating, Salesmanship; Duplicats; hobbies include foreign auto mechanics, photography.

Mrs. Karen Peitz, B.A.; Introduction to Business, Business Arithmetic, Business Law; Senior Class; enjoys sewing, working on masters degree.

Darvin Wilson, B.A., M.A.; Shorthand; Cap and Gown; enjoys traveling.

Mr. Jack Hemphill, South's new Distributive Education teacher, assisted Sue Carter in arranging the first show case.

Typing I student Rick Hynes developed rhythmic skills by typing to music.

Adopted modern texts, procedures for teaching

"The Principles and Promise of American Government" and "The Rise of the American Nation" were two new textbooks adopted by the social studies department this year. The government text emphasized a sociological approach to government and the history text introduced the study of economic principles. An addition to the department was Mrs. Virginia Blockcolski, instructor of World Geography. South is not only moving ahead, it is leading the way for others. During the summer at the American History Institute at Kansas State College, department coordinator David Estill taught other high school instructors the fundamentals of teaching and presenting history.

Mr. Will Sego explained the function of the punch board to psychology students Jack Houser and Jim Simpson.

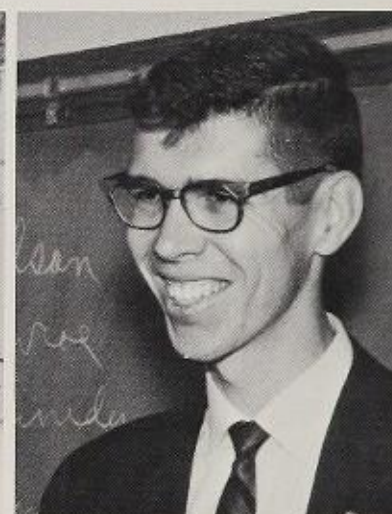

Dave Estill, A.B., M.A.; World Geography, U. S. History, Social Science Coordinator; taught at U. S. History Institute at Pittsburg last summer.

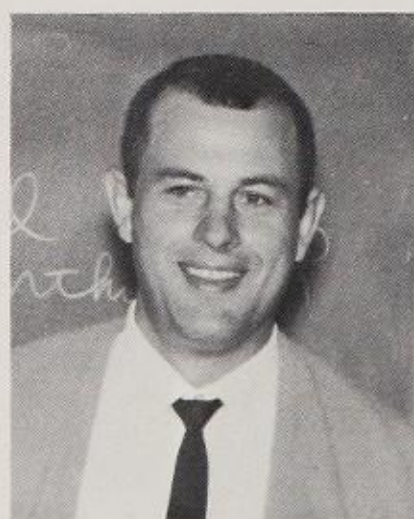

Eldon Foster, A.B., M.A.; U. S. History, World History; Senior Banquet; enjoys golf, Scouts.

Mrs. Charlotte Yancey, B.S.; M.E.; International Relations, U.S. History; Senior Prom, United Nations; enjoys music in form of piano and organ.

Wayne Howdeshell, B.A.; Sociology, Government.

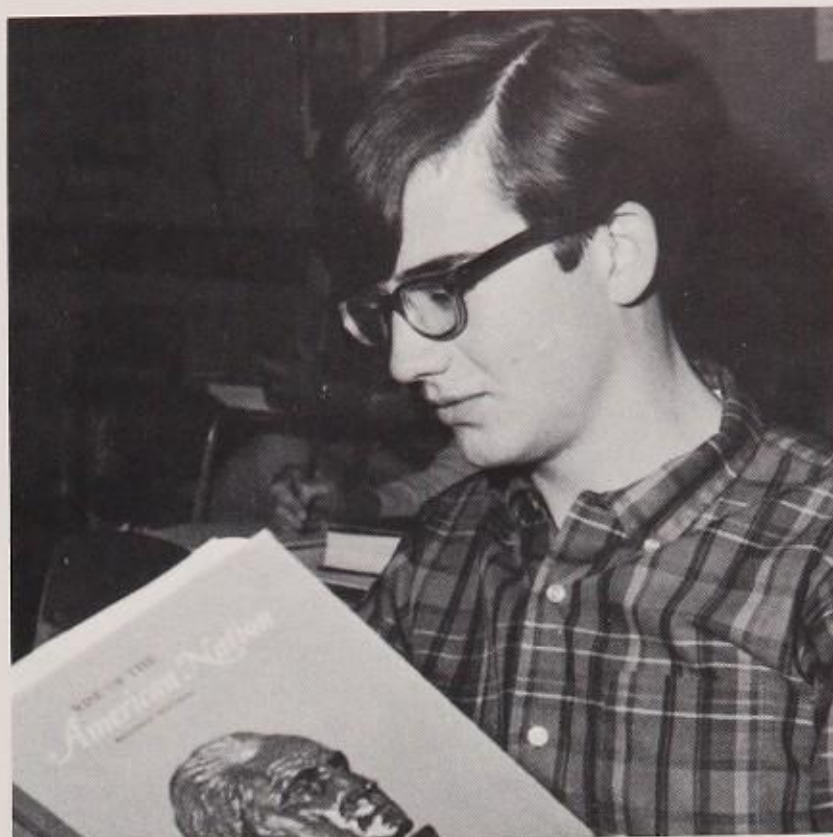

Bill Oswalt, B.A.; U. S. History, Head Gymnastics Coach, Head Baseball Coach, Assistant Football Coach; Junior Class; worked as supervisor of Park Board pools.

Louis Valadez, B.S., M.A.; U. S. History; Head Wrestling Coach, Assistant Football and Track Coach; taught summer school.

International Relations students Mark Jackson and Jerry Martin scanned embassy pamphlets for information on various foreign countries.

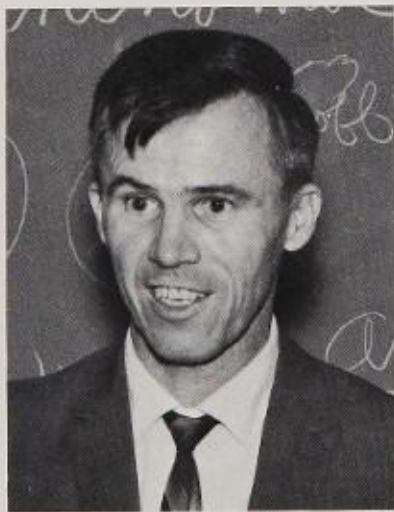

Junior Alan Hess took advantage of material in the new history book introduced this year.

Will Sego, A.B.; Psychology; enjoys reading.

Albert Ahlstrom, B.S., M.E.; U.S. History, Government; Proctors; caretaker at Woodland Park last summer.

Ralph Ross, A.B., M.E.; Government, Economics; Student Government; enjoys reading.

Mrs. Marjorie Sheppard, A.B.; Psychology, U. S. History; Junior Class; enjoys hunting lost mines.

Mrs. Virginia Blockolski, B.A.; U. S. History, World Geography; enjoys reading, sewing, sports.

Established honor club for interested students

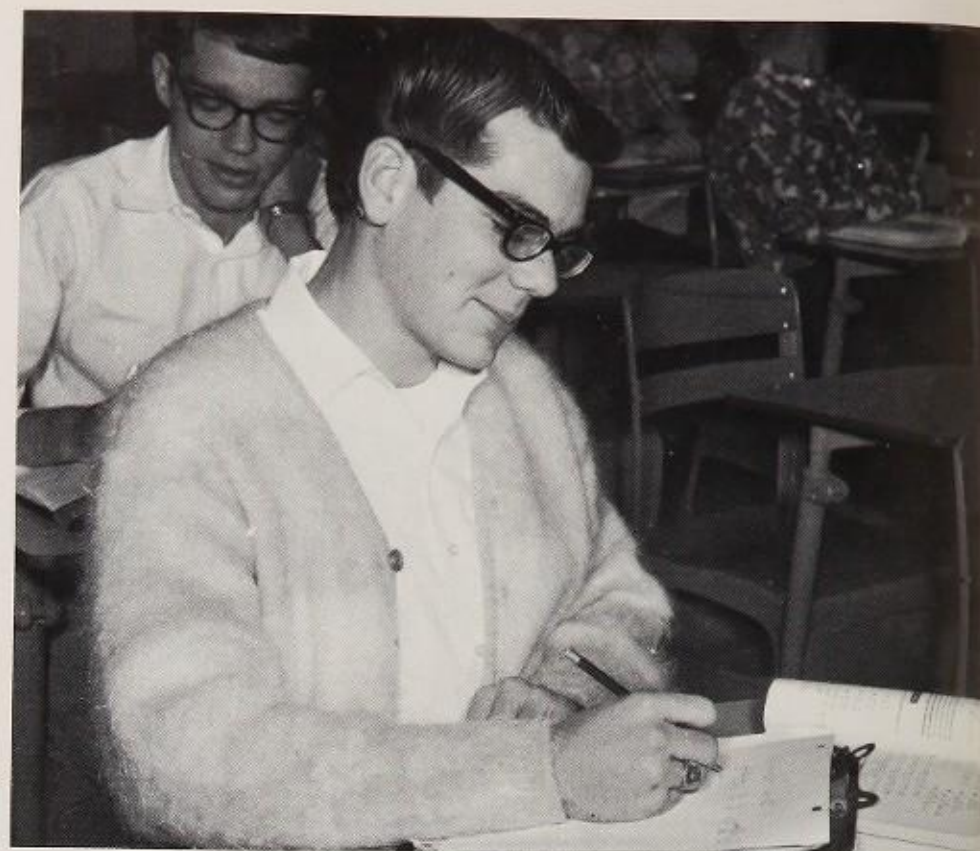

A new educational opportunity for students this year was an honor mathematics club which was sponsored by Mr. Richard Feeney. This club was intended to be a group in which problems were discussed that were not mentioned in the classroom. Also, students were able to present mathematical problems in which they were interested. A new teacher in the mathematics department this year was Mrs. Patricia Bennion. During the summer, Mr. Wallace Blackwood attended Kansas State University, and Mr. Richard Feeney attended the University of Oklahoma, both taking advantage of study grants awarded to them. The mathematics department continued to develop its modern method of teaching, which involved challenging the students to find the answers to their own questions.

Thomas Martin, B.S., M.S., Ed.S.; Algebra I, Geometry, Study Hall; Mathematics Coordinator; Youth Director at Hyde Park EUB Church.

Richard Feeney, B.A., M.S.; Geometry, Trigonometry, Analytic Geometry; attended National Science Foundation Institute at Oklahoma University last summer.

Senior Terry Farney found his Algebra II story problem highly amusing.

John Snodgrass, B.S., M.S.; Algebra I, II; enjoys archery, gardening, traveling.

Michael Cardenas, A.A., A.B., M.S.; Geometry, Algebra II; traveled to Mexico last summer.

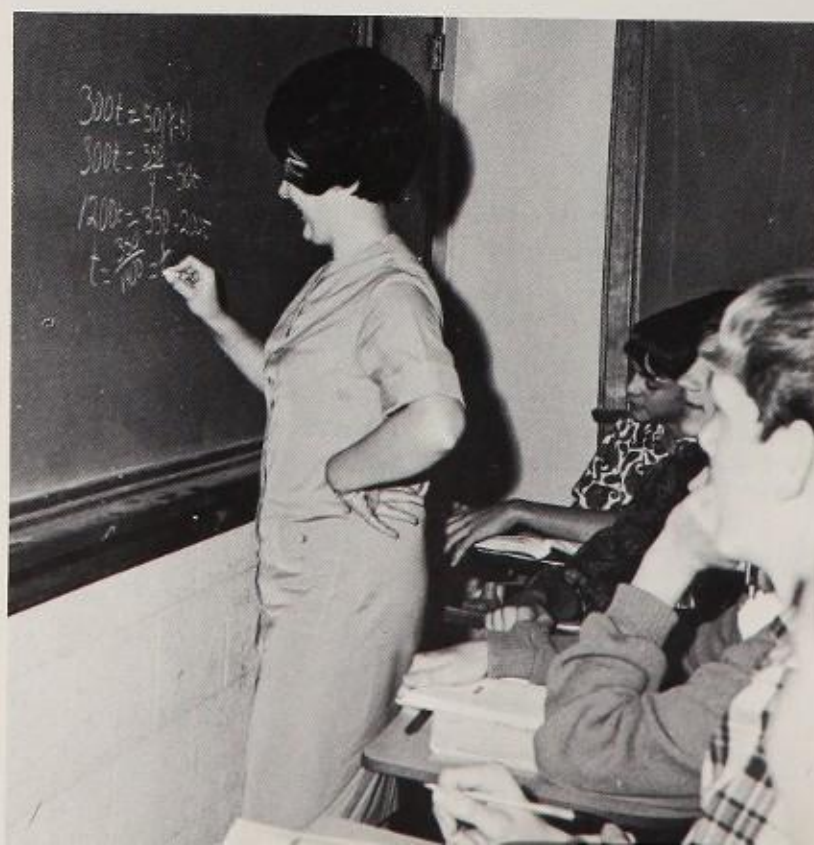

Mrs. Patricia Bennion, B.A.; Basic Math, Geometry, Study Hall; spent summer at Grand Lake completing degree.

Wallace Blackwood, B.S., M.S.; Algebra I, Geometry; Math Club; enjoys camping.

Algebra I student Binki Morrell demonstrated how to solve a one variable equation to her fellow class mates.

Sophomores Martha Oaks and Christy Hill examined and studied various plant forms as a part of their Biology I course.

Bob Doyle, B.S., M.S.; Biology, Audio-Visual; enjoys fishing.

Henry Foreman, B.S., A.B., M.A., Ed D.; Biology, Zoology, Botany, Science Coordinator; attended University of California last summer on N.S.F. program at Berkeley.

Paul Elder, B.S., M.S.; Basic Science, Biology; raises registered animals.

James Anders, B.S., M.S.; Physiology, Biology I; Explorer 1000, 800, South High Flying Colonels; prepared concession trailers for use at football games at Roosevelt Field.

Science

Sought to help students understand the universe

As the world delved deeper into the mysteries of the universe, it became more and more important to have a basic knowledge of the sciences. South High's science department progressed with an additional teacher, summer scholarships, and a greatly increased enrollment. Mr. H. O. Sanderson, a new biology and basic science teacher, transferred to South from Truesdell Junior High. He has become a part of a department in which all of the instructors have a masters degree plus additional hours. Two members of the science department, Mr. Bob Doyle and Dr. Henry Foreman, received Summer Institute grants from the National Science Foundation for eight weeks of study at colleges in California. This year, Mr. Doyle was in charge of Audio-Visual.

Harleigh Sanderson, B.S., M.S.; Biology, Basic Science; Sophomore Class; enjoys hiking, fishing.

Kenneth Coy, B.A., M.A.; Basic Science, Geology, Astronomy, Physics, surveyed with consulting engineers last summer.

Home Economics

Students prepared meals; offered job opportunities

Two new teachers and one new course were added to the homemaking department this year. Miss Martha Richardson, who came to South from Roosevelt Junior High, taught the new Clothing Maintenance class. This course, which instructed students in the methods of clothing repair and assembly line construction, prepared students for their futures and gave them experience with an on-the-job training program. Supervising the organization of buffet luncheons and guest meals was a part of the duties performed by Mrs. Vera Lane, foods teacher who transferred to our department from the homemaking department at West High School.

Sophomore Peggy Wiemeyer added the final touch to her first clothing project in home economics.

Home and Family students David Fansler, Gail Farr, and Darrell Schneider took advantage of the home economics living room area to plan a household budget.

Mrs. Leola Malloy, B.S., M.S.; Clothing II, House and Home Furnishings; Homemaking Coordinator; enjoys sewing.

Martha Richardson, A.B.; House-keeping Techniques, Clothing Maintenance; collects antiques.

Mrs. Vera Lane, B.S., M.S.; Foods I, II; Junior Class; worked as home economist for Head Start Program last summer.

Mrs. Doris Wright, B.S., M.S.; Home and Family; enjoys knitting, sewing.

Mrs. Linda White, B.S., M.S.; Clothing I, III, Child Care; Senior Class; enjoys knitting, sewing, reading.

Ed Brimmer, B.M.E., M.M.E.; Boys Choir, Boys Sophomore Choir, Boys Mixed Chorus, Sophomore A Glee Club, Study Hall; enjoys photography.

Adrian Freeman, B.A., M.A.; Drawing, Commercial Design, Introduction to Art; enjoys painting, water colors.

Wynne Harrell, B.M.E., M.M.E.; A Band, B Band, Orchestra, Instrumental Ensembles; Pep Band; enjoys fishing, hunting, reading.

Junior Darrell Howard painted a prop to be used in one of the scenes for West Side Story.

Fine Arts Stressed creative work; developed musical ability

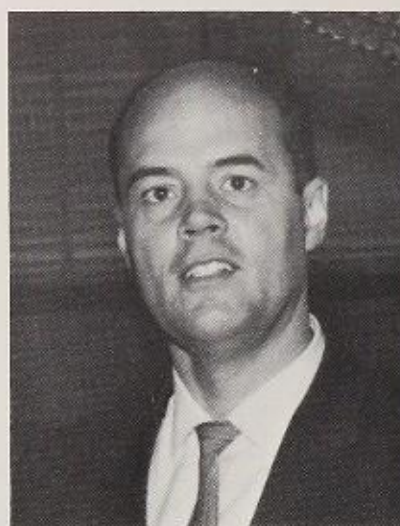

Creativity and taking pride in one's work were two goals stressed in South's art classes. Students experienced the gratification that comes from seeing one's own creations on display. Projects often were exhibited within the classroom or in the showcases of the main hall. In the music division of the fine arts department, fashion took a step forward. Girls in ensembles, chorus, and choir were clad in frothy red, pink, black, or blue dresses, and for the first time in South's history, the boys in choir appeared in special outfits. In addition, this department moved ahead to the formation of several new musical groups, a sophomore choir, boy's ensembles, and several sophomore ensembles. The instrumental division was occupied with concerts, festivals, and scores for dramatic production.

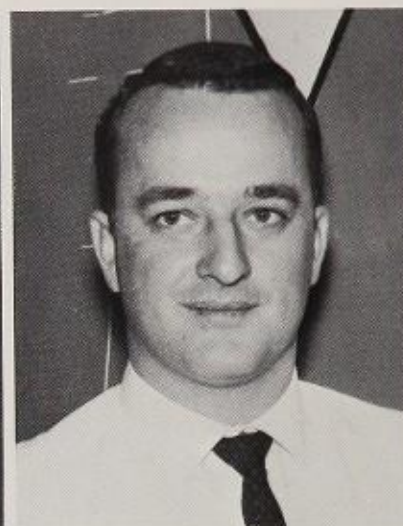

The complex parts of a car engine offered a challenge to auto mechanics students Roger Catlin, Sam Peluso, Royce Martin, and Tommy Fields.

Industrial Arts Taught vocational skills; offered photography class

To those students whose future was aimed at a career in a vocational field, or to those who only desired a working knowledge of technical skills, the industrial arts department was an important source of education. To effectively meet the educational needs of its students, the printing division introduced a new class in photography. Mr. John Dailey, electricity instructor and a graduate of Wichita State University, and Mr. Everett Harden, metals instructor and a graduate of the College of Emporia, were two replacements on the teaching staff of the department. Large enrollment in all classes showed that students were preparing for the future, for moving ahead.

Robert Richardson, B.S., M.S.; Auto Mechanics, Industrial Arts Coordinator; Senior Class; service manager for boat dealer in Colorado last summer.

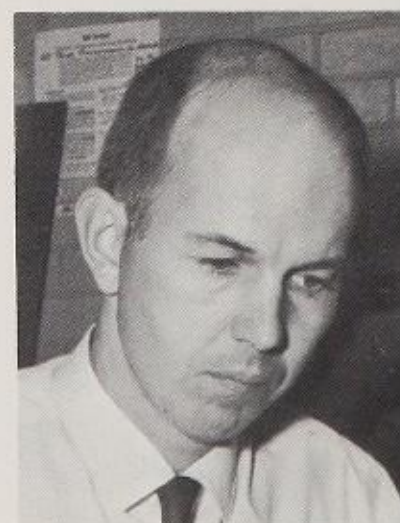

Merlin Luthi, B.S.; Drivers Education, Woodwork I; Assistant Wrestling and Baseball Coach, Safety Club; enjoys fishing, hunting.

John Dailey, B.A.; Electronics I, II, III; Senior Class, Mardi Gras; enjoys electronics in spare time.

Lindley Cox, B.S., M.S.; Mechanical Drawing I, II, III; Student Government; interested in extra sensory perception.

Everett Harden, B.S., M.S.; Metals I, IA, II, Girls Home Mechanics; Senior Class; worked as a crop hail adjuster and sheet metal worker last summer.

Robert Lehr, B.S., M.S.; Woodwork I, II, III; enjoys hunting, officiating.

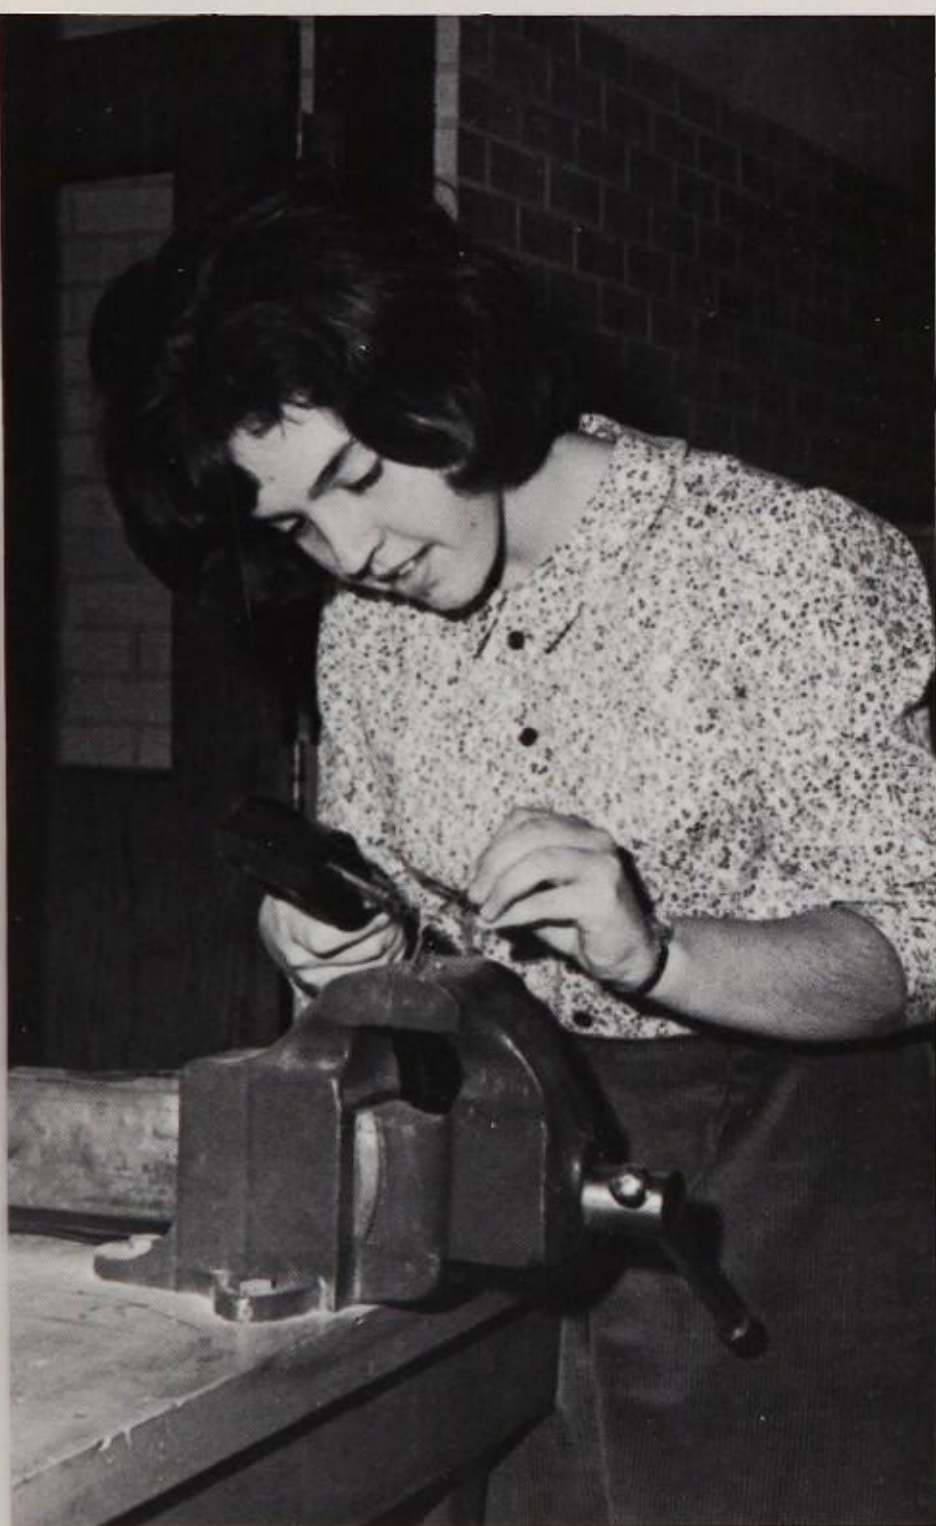

Charles Varner, B.S.; Drivers Education; Assistant Football Coach; taught summer school; enjoys athletics.

Howard Runft, B.S., M.S.; Automotive Information, Drivers Education; Senior Class; taught drivers education in summer school.

Sophomores Clark Wade, Billy Newell, Randy Davis, and Floyd Reynolds learned the correct procedures for type setting.

Kathy May used a soldering gun, adding a final touch to her mechanics project.

J. R. Muci, B.S., M.S.; Printing I, II, III, Mechanical Drawing I; Senior Class; enjoys gardening.

Physical Education

Improved coordination; alertness, athletic skills

Elmer Carpenter, B.S., M.S.; Boys Physical Education Coordinator, Athletic Director; Lettermen's Club; enjoys fishing, hunting, flying.

Wanda Ecker, B.A., M.S.; Girls Physical Education Coordinator; Intramurals; was bowling instructor last summer.

Rose Lamb, B.A., M.S.; Girls Physical Education; Colonelettes, Intramurals, Girls Gymnastics Team; enjoys gardening, painting.

Mrs. Marilyn Morris, B.S.; Girls Physical Education; Co-director Modern Dance Program, Intramurals, Cheerleaders; working on masters degree.

Boys' and girls' physical education departments increased physical dexterity and developed skills for worthwhile use of leisure time. Boys' Physical Education I consisted of emphasis on body development, good health habits, and teamwork. Physical education for girls was taught on a two year basis. Sophomores took swimming and team sports, and juniors concentrated on rhythmic and individual sports. While boys' advanced physical education emphasized recreational activities and leadership, girls' advanced physical education taught more difficult skills and knowledge. After school intramurals for girls provided the opportunity for their hockey and gymnastics teams to compete with other schools.

South High's undefeated hockey team made the final preparations as they awaited the start of the annual students vs. faculty game. 1966 graduate Ger-rie Hungate assisted Denise Andrla as physical education teachers Lola Havercroft and Rose Lamb waited patiently.

John Deardorff, B.S., M.Ed.; Boys Physical Education, Study Hall; Head Cross Country Coach, Head Swimming Coach, Head Track Coach; Junior Class; Fencing Club; taught swimming last summer.

Lola Havercroft, B.S.; Girls Physical Education; Pep Club, Water Show; taught swimming last summer.

Ralph Brumback, A.B., M.S.; Boys Physical Education; Head Basketball Coach, Golf Coach, taught swimming last summer.

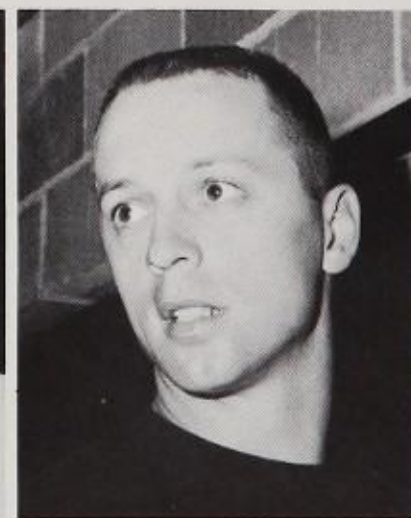

Becky Goering and Gail Bourk spotted Diane Bally as she executed the basic trampoline jumps.

Weight lifting class afforded sophomore, junior, and senior boys an opportunity to develop strength and improve fitness.

Gailord Bellamy, A.B.; Boys Physical Education, Study Hall; Head Football Coach, Assistant Track Coach; builds amplifiers for hi-fi's.

Artie Dillon, B.A.; Boys Physical Education, Head Tennis Coach, Assistant Football and Basketball Coach; Lettermen's Club; enjoys weight training, baseball.

SOCIETY

FRIENDS — the center threads of society. Strands of friendship that developed in club meetings, drama, music, or athletics were woven into the over-all design called education. Anyone who believed school ended with the 3:30 bell had never walked the halls at 7 p.m.

Homecoming Festivities highlighted with 200 car caravan

Participation in the Homecoming festivities enthusiastically began Oct. 7 with a 200 car caravan which slowly made its way to Lawrence Stadium where Ginger Asmann was crowned Homecoming Queen. Although defeated by Southeast 28-19, Colonels climaxed their Homecoming weekend with the crowning of Homecoming King Nick Mendoza at the dance held Saturday night. "Under a Dixie Rose" was the theme for the 1966 Homecoming dance; music was provided by the Downbeats. Senior attendants were Janet Cox escorted by Gerry Morton and Marsha Weaver escorted by Jack Houser. Junior attendants were Paula Beebe escorted by Jack Oliver and Mary Brammer escorted by Stan Morton.

Junior-Senior Prom

Accented moonlit shadows through roses of crimson

Gowns rustling in moonlit shadows enhanced by a background of crimson roses brought an aura of enchantment to the Cotillion Ballroom on the evening of January 17—the night of South's "Moonlight and Roses" junior-senior prom. Candidates processed through a rose-bedecked archway on to the dance floor for the crowning of Queen Stacy Kaczowka and King Greg Greider. Senior attendants Kris Knuth and Don Johnson, and Trish Moreland and Rod Thole shared the music of Bob Austin's orchestra with junior attendants Diane Clark and Kent Shurtleff, Sherry Byers and Rusty Sims, and Janell Knuth and Steve Ricketts, for the royalty dance following the coronation.

Senior Banquet

Tinged with Paris magic; offered musical melodies

Passing under an archway symbolic of one's passage into Paris through the Arc d' Triomphe, seniors entered Innes' Tea Room which was reminiscent of an evening located in the magical city of Paris. Seated at tables enhanced by a decor of pastel flower carts and Eiffel Tower nut cups, graduating students dined on such cuisine as veal bird smothered in mushroom sauce and strawberry parfait. Stories in song were intoned by seniors Anna Davis and Don Johnson, followed by tunes from "Carousel" by a senior ensemble. A serious mood was created at Paris par Nuit by speaker John Morton when he challenged the audience to "look up to the stars instead of down at the mud," and reminded them that "failure is only a stepping stone to success."

Scott Wong and Rhonda Black chatted briefly before the banquet.

Banquet speaker John Morton challenged seniors to "look up to the stars."

Seniors enjoyed a good dinner and exchanged memories of the past and plans for the future.

Donald Blosser was awarded the President's Scholarship to Oklahoma University.

Scholarships

Enabled students to attain higher level of education

For many students, high school was just one step on the sometimes rocky road of education, but a college scholarship often helped smooth the way. Dennis Haas and Mike Stewart were nominated respectively for appointment to the Air Force Academy and West Point. Kansas State University awarded Gerry Morton a four year athletic scholarship. Good citizenship earned Leanna Cross recognition from the Daughters of American Revolution. Donald Blosser won the President's Scholarship for Oklahoma State University. Two freshman scholarships to Southwestern College were presented to Joanna Fuller and Bill Malcolm. Scientific competition sponsored by Bausch-Lomb made Linda O'Brien a finalist for a scholarship from Rochester University.

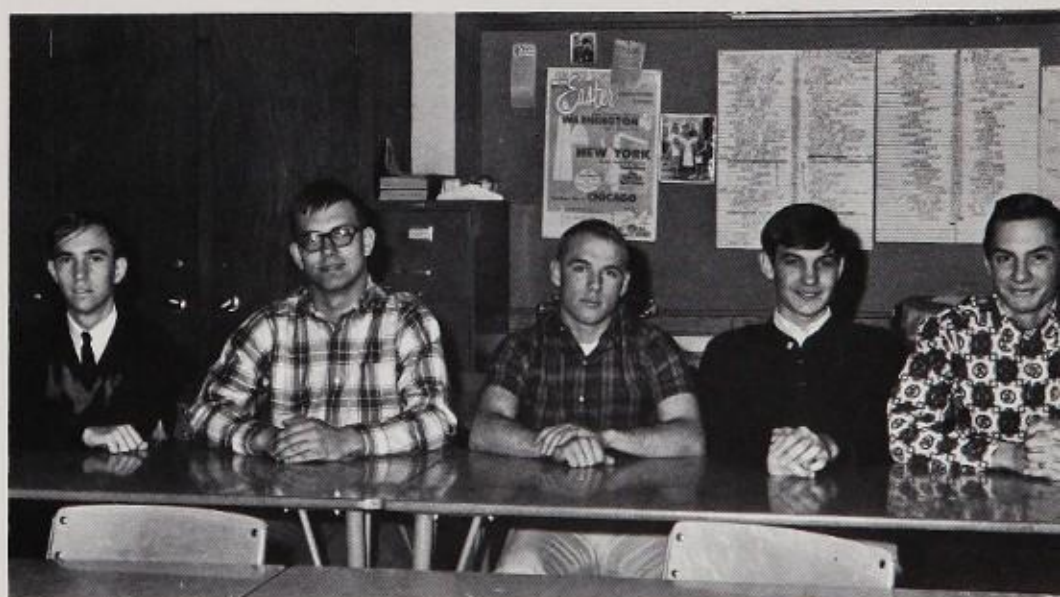

Dennis Haas was nominated for appointment to the Air Force Academy. Bill Malcolm received a freshman scholarship to Southwestern College. Mike Stewart was nominated for appointment to West Point.

Linda O'Brien was a finalist for a scholarship from Rochester University. Leanna Cross was recognized by the Daughters of the American Revolution for good citizenship.

Linda Jordan was one of the local winners in the Homemakers of Tomorrow Contest.

Mr., Miss Pep

Exhibited worthy qualities of enthusiasm, school spirit

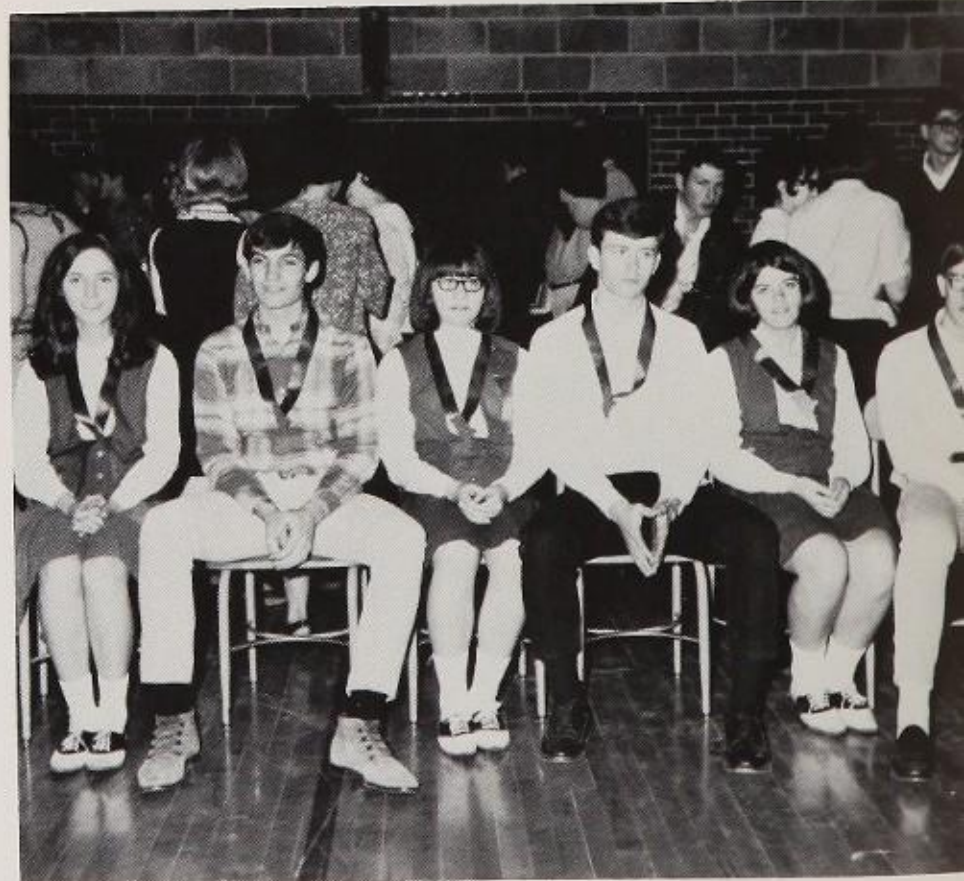

As recognition for personal support of such events as football and basketball games, Pat Blanchard and Marsha Bettis were elected 1966-67 Mr. and Miss Pep. Awarded this honor on the basis of their promotion of athletic events, and the school spirit and enthusiasm displayed for such activities throughout the season, these two students were crowned on February 7. Selected from a list compiled by the varsity cheerleaders and the Pep Club Council, the boy and girl with the most outstanding qualities and highest number of points are chosen for this honor annually. Sophomore attendants were Kathy Nading and Rod Stewart, junior attendants were Nancy Bettis and Cliff Jones, and senior attendants were Linda Jordan and David Beck.

Mr. and Miss Pep were Marsha Bettis and Pat Blanchard.

Pep council member Gail Bourk honored sophomore attendant Rod Stewart at a pep assembly.

Mr. and Miss Pep attendants were Linda Jordan and David Beck, seniors; Nancy Bettis and Cliff Jones, juniors; and Kathy Nading and Rod Stewart, sophomores.

Student Government

Debated workshop ideas; delivered Christmas cards

Duties entailed in carrying on tradition were combined with the inauguration of new customs and projects by this year's student government. Continuing Teacher Appreciation Week and sponsoring the Christmas hall decoration were two of the customs maintained from previous years. Projects for this year included gravel for the repair of the south road from the parking lot, speakers for the gym, and decoration of the lounge for various holidays. After returning from a workshop on school problems held at Wichita Heights, the officers, under the leadership of president Nick Mendoza, organized a school workshop for student government representatives. Students promoted relations between city schools by making giant Christmas cards and delivering them to area high schools.

West Side Story

Romance, gang warfare paired in popular musical

An adaptation of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet," plus a musical score by Leonard Bernstein, combined to make the musical "West Side Story" which was presented through the efforts of the Fine Arts Department. New York slums, with their intense gang hatreds, provided the setting of the story. Two gangs, the Puerto Rican Sharks and the American Jets, provided the characters. Tony, played by Don Johnson, was a Jet who fell in love with the Puerto Rican girl, Maria, who was played by LeAne Briscoe. The tragic results of social prejudice concluded the play and presented a moral lesson for the audience.

My Sister Eileen

Characterized by bedlam, mishaps in "Village" locale

A stoop-shouldered handy man, an artist who doubled as a scoundrelous landlord, a "good-looking" blonde, and seven Brazilian admirals brought unexpected surprises and laughs to the audiences of "My Sister Eileen." Perils stemming from living in Greenwich Village, including deafening subway blasting, and red-nosed drunks, combined to create a kaleidoscope of humor and sarcasm. After being conned into renting a basement studio with oozing walls by cantankerous Mr. Appopolous (Greg Brenner), Eileen (LeAne Briscoe) and Ruth (Kathy Lesperance) set about making their fortunes; within a few weeks they were penniless and Eileen was in jail. But Kismet, in the guise of an enterprising reporter named Chic Clark (Greg Baxter) saved the day by securing a job for Ruth.

Goodbye My Fancy

Return of congresswoman upset daily college routine

A rather common place occurrence—the presentation of an honorary degree to a Senator—became quite a complicated affair in "Goodbye, My Fancy." Agatha Reed (Anna Davis) returned to her college alma mater as an outspoken United States Senator who was to receive a degree from Jim Merrill (Greg Greider), college president. Unfortunately, the faculty had forgotten that she had once been expelled for dating a married college professor—Jim Merrill. Except for photographer Matt Cole (Don Johnson), the incident probably never would have been remembered, but Cole also was in love with Agatha. His attempts to expose the weak-willed Merrill combined with the embarrassment of the honorary degree resulted in an enjoyable drama for the conclusion of the 1966-67 season.

"Hold it!" Matt Cole (Don Johnson) instructed Jim Merrill (Greg Greider) and the lady senator.

Captured scenes, faces for memories, reference

Members on a yearbook staff have a position of prestige, but a reputation of spending a carefree year. There is an element of truth in this belief, but each member on the Sabre staff found that producing a good yearbook was really a lot of work. Their task was complicated by the fact that the 1965-66 yearbook received an All-American rating, and the 1966-67 staff had this status to maintain. Checking constantly with teachers about copy, racking their minds for unusual candid shots, racing frantically to meet a deadline, this was a partial description of the year of the Sabre staff. However, in addition to producing the yearbook, the staff co-sponsored the sale of Dixie Dialers and sophomore and junior pictures. Student Photos treated the staff to a memorable dinner at Ken's Club for being the school in Wichita to sell the most class pictures.

Activities editor Rene' Rimel, layout editor John Davis, and assistant activities editor Terry Pilgreen created accurate layouts and special art effects.

Staff member Linda Donalson helped Roland Peters write an editorial as Linda Brush scanned previous issues.

Southerner

Crusaded against parking; wrote for city newspaper

A good newspaper staff should do more than publish a newspaper once every two weeks. This year's Southerner staff worked diligently to promote school relations and to improve their own knowledge of journalism. After interviewing several residents who complained of student parking on the side streets, staff members made signs and picketed to persuade students to park in the school lot. Two days of picketing and passing out free stickers resulted in a letter of congratulation from Mrs. Evelyn Whitcomb, member of the board of education and PTA president. In order to observe a city newspaper in operation, some of the staff spent one day writing for the Wellington Daily News. Student articles which appeared included editorials, feature stories, and sports coverage.

Poetry and prose committee members were Wanda Chapman, Pat Conely, Robert Cairns, Vickie Williams, Leanna Cross, Ginger Webb, Linda Jordan, Vicki Holmes, Ron Smetana, and Sandy Eyman.

Savant

Published creative work of most talented students

Encouraged by the success of the two previous years, editor Ron Smetana and the staff for the 1966-67 Savant began work on the third edition. Committees for prose and poetry criticized submissions and chose those best suited for a high school literary magazine. English teachers also cooperated by entering some of the best work done by their pupils. Illustrations were prepared by the art committee, and members of the publicity committee were responsible for prompting student participation. Providing an opportunity for South High students to express themselves and to display creative talent and ability was a primary goal of this publication. Instead of selling copies during the annual Book Fair, the staff agreed to postpone the sales until April.

Public relations committee members were Sherry Nelson, Elaine Howdeshell, Vickie Clark, Mike Burt, Bev Best, and Sheri Bergen.

Math Club

Received charter, offered challenge for top students

Being the Sigma Chapter of Wichita and a branch of the national Mu Alpha Theta, these were the recommendations of South's Math Club. Membership in the honor club was exclusive for its standards were high. Prospective members had to have taken one year of math and be taking a second; qualifications for full membership were to have taken two years of mathematics and be enrolled in a third. For the twenty participants of the club, membership was valuable because their meetings were often spent in discussing mathematical equations and problems which could not be given time in the classroom. Members were encouraged to present challenging programs and to further their interest in the field of mathematics.

Math Club members Linda O'Brien, Janella Pearson, and Connie Witt collaborated to solve a difficult analytic geometry problem.

Debate

Held "Hog-Calling" event; sent handbooks to Nigeria

To be eligible for membership in the National Forensic League, each student had to earn twenty-five points, which were acquired through participation in debate and speech tournaments. All debaters worked toward the goal of winning a trophy; for several members this goal was realized as South teams received two fourth-place trophies, true symbols of achievement. The club members entered debates in Kingman, Ulysses, Winfield, including a number of other locations. They also hosted their own "hog-calling" speech tournament for over 400 speakers. One of the more unusual acts of the club was the shipment of debate handbooks which members mailed to a Catholic mission in Nigeria.

Thespians

Celebrated with banquet; supported plays, contests

Working on plays and contests provided two ways in which dramatically inclined students could earn the ten points necessary for membership in National Thespian Society Troupe #182. Learning how to work in all phases of the theater was the purpose of the group which, combined with the Plantation Players, had a total of eighty-two students in the club. Buying lockers for the girls' dressing room and scenery for the plays were two projects financed through the sale of Colonel dolls. After a year of hard work, Thespians celebrated with a formal banquet at the Civic Playhouse May 19. Entertainment was provided by a guest speaker, original skits, and the presentation of awards. Sponsor of the group was Miss Karen Pyles.

During play tryouts, Kathy Hobson emphasized a line while reading a scene with Paul Baunhofer.

Future Medical Careers

Entertained professionals to guide in career choice

This eighty member club was composed of students interested in careers as doctors, nurses, and related vocations. Speakers from professional fields, including a physical therapist, a clinical psychiatrist, a veterinarian, and a psychiatric social worker, were often the means of instructing and informing members of the opportunities in various medical careers. Collecting for March of Dimes was a full year service project. Members held ice cream sales and sponsored student donations to bolster funds for the national organization. Throughout the year, educational field trips were taken to the Halstead Medical Museum, the Topeka State Hospital, and to the Miller Theater to watch the film "Fantastic Voyage."

Future Medical Careers officers were Mike Phillips, vice-president; Pat Martin, president; Margie West, secretary; and Jerry Harrison, treasurer.

Future Teachers

Organized city council; aided Vietnamese orphan

Unique and expanding described the activities of South High's Future Teachers of America Club. One of their more unusual projects was the sponsorship of a Vietnamese orphan whose support came from the $180 the club earned in candy sales. Expansion came in the form of the creation of a city-wide council; the Wichita Future Teachers Council was presided over by Leanna Cross, South's own F.T.A. president. Throughout the year, senior members toured Kansas colleges to enable them to make a wise college choice. All members collected for the Meals for Millions charity program and were eligible to attend the state convention held in Manhattan in April. Plans for the following year included a counselor-recommended tutoring program for students.

Supported civic projects; planned city-wide dinner

Being responsible for the Operation Holiday Kick-off dinner distinguished South High's Red Cross Club. Besides working for this local program, members contributed time and effort to the annual Toys for Tots drive. They also adopted an 80 - year - old woman during the holidays and presented her with gifts, a tree, and $25 in groceries. Another project supported by the club's treasury was sending 20 friendship kits to soldiers in South Viet Nam to be distributed to the Vietnamese people. Student donations amounting to $135 also went toward sending two chests of school supplies to the war-torn nation. Members of South's club worked with the city council and held a school membership drive for the National Red Cross.

Lonnie Scheck discovered that a club project meant work when a Junior Red Cross poster party was held.

Denise Allen, Judy Hart, and Lonnie Scheck inspected a doll house before wrapping it to send to an underprivileged family overseas.

Safety Club

Promoted seat belt sales; attended safety conference

Promoting traffic safety among apathetic teenagers — this was the foremost aim of the Safety Club. Members held decal checks and issued tickets for illegal parking or other unauthorized use of the school lot. Probably the most important project of the club was the selling of seat belts. Enlargement of these sales provided the principal goal for all active members. During October, part of the club attended the Governor's Safety Conference which was held at the Allis Hotel. Speakers at the convention discussed suggestions that could possibly become law. Although Safety Club associated with the Driver's Education classes, students were not required to be taking the course in order to become a member of the club.

Explorer Scouts

Supported own airplane; sponsored new flight course

Being the only post in the world to support an airplane without soliciting outside funds was a distinction earned by Explorer Post #800. Operating two concession trailers at eight football games helped supply the money for payments of $146 a month. These earnings also cut the expense of flying by about one-half for all boys involved in the group. Convincing administrations of the merit of a high school aeronautics course was another of the club's projects. Partly due to their efforts, such a class will be offered in all Wichita high schools next year. During the Christmas holidays, the post cooperated with Lettermen's Club in adopting a family of nine.

Senior Sherry Nelson helped support a Christmas project by purchasing a model plane from Explorer Scout Ernie Melrose.

Under the watchful eye of sponsor Mr. Anders, Roger Smith checked the oil on the post's airplane.

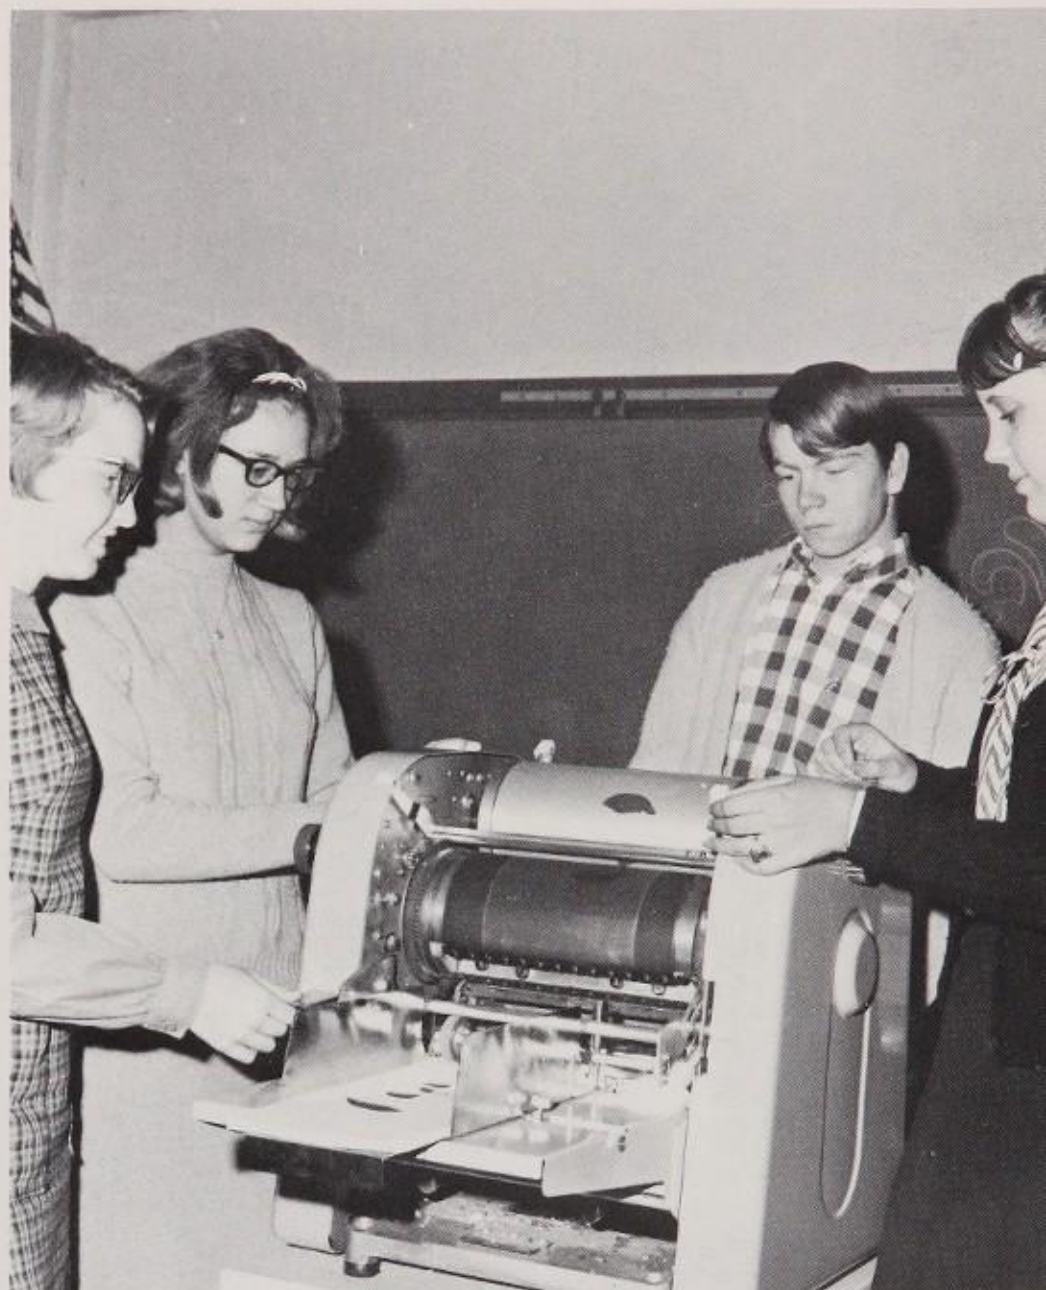

Duplicats

Sold bumper stickers; financed trip to convention

Existing as the only such club in Kansas was a distinct honor for South High's Duplicats. Extremely active in their first year, members sold bumper stickers and candy apples to students to defray the expense of attending the BECK state convention in Emporia. In conjunction with class activities, members printed programs for music and dance shows and sent cards to each teacher at Christmas. Winning grand prize for their Scandinavian Hall decor during the holidays, visiting various business and printing offices, and breakfasting with other clubs and schools were included in their wide range of accomplishments. Conversation at weekly meetings often dwelt on the operation and explanation of various office machines.

Creating her own design for printing was Duplicat Alice Akin and fellow club members Dorothy Leonard, Roxanna Freedman, and Linda Medcalf.

Duplicat officers were Louise Bohenenblust, secretary; Anna Mayfield, president; Jon Brown, treasurer; and Alice Akin, vice president.

Office Practice

Boasted state secretary; planned city-wide banquet

In past years the South High Office Practice club has had many first place winners at the BECK, Business Education Clubs of Kansas, state convention. This year's club strove to maintain the record; they sponsored bake and candy sales to raise the funds necessary to transport the entire club to the Kansas State Teachers College at Emporia, which was the site of this year's convention. They competed in fields of typing, filing, office machine operation, shorthand, and office procedures with outstanding results. Among this year's members was a state officer, Jane Renner, who held the position of state secretary of BECK. Climaxing the year was the traditional city-wide employee-employer banquet.

Office Practice officers were Barbara England, parliamentarian; Arlene Sherwood, secretary of state information; Regina Bartlett, vice-president-budgets; Deanne Evans, social chairman; Jane Renner, secretary; and Karen Bland, president.

Toured wichita, observed use of classroom theories

Field trips to Sears, David's, Thurston's, and various advertising agencies, morning doughnut sales, and pre-school breakfasts were among the various activities which presented members with the opportunity to relax, and at the same time further their knowledge of marketing and distribution. This newly-organized club was a busy one; in May, members journeyed to Emporia to compete in an annual leadership convention. They vied for honors in fields of salesmanship, window display, and store systems. At the close of the year, all members invited their individual employers to a city-wide banquet. Affiliated with DECA, Distributive Education Clubs of American, and BECK, Business Education Clubs of Kansas, the club is the only one of its kind in Wichita.

Sandy Beebe, Marilyn Smith, Sue Carter, and Wanda Price arranged a display of mannequins in formal dress in the showcase.

Biblionauts

Publicized book fair; served as library aides

A library is a treasure chest of knowledge. One way to make the utmost of its facilities is to work in the library as a student aide. At South many of these aides belonged to the Biblionaut club. In addition to their regular duties of stamping passes, delivering overdue notices, shelving books, decorating bulletin boards, and attending the circulation desk, they helped publicize, plan, and manage the annual Book Fair. Through the profits from the past Book Fairs, the aides and librarians were able to purchase the new automatic book charging machine. Affiliated with KLASS, Kansas Library Assistants of Secondary Schools, members attended the state convention held May 1 at Emporia.

Performing one of the many duties of a library aide, Gail Farr returned books to their proper shelves.

Staged 'dogpatch' week; wrote Viet servicemen

"To grow as a person, to grow in friendship with people of all races, religions and nationalities, and to grow in the knowledge and love of God," this was the motto of Y-Teen club members. Participation in this club not only allowed girls to grow as individuals, it also gave them an opportunity to take part in numerous civic and South High activities. Presenting a Thanksgiving assembly, decorating the big tree in the main hall for Christmas, sponsoring the traditional Sadie Hawkins Dance, and collecting for UNICEF and World Fellowship were events that occupied a great deal of time. But these activities did not satisfy the members, for they took on another duty, writing regularly to service men in Vietnam.

German Club

Earned right for initiation; learned native folk dances

A student interested in becoming a member of South High's German Club had to go through certain specific rituals. First, he earned three points through club projects, then he ate sauerkraut and pickles during the initiation ceremony. After being accepted into the club, members participated in candy and ice cream sales to support the European trips, decorating the halls for Christmas holidays, and operating a German booth at the Mardi Gras. Work was interrupted by a Christmas party and a spring picnic. Guest speakers and discussion of student slides of Austria helped to further the club's main function — studying German culture through such activities as singing songs and learning native folk dances.

After a trying initiation ceremony, Synda Schroder received her German Club membership from president Joyce Jones.

German Club officers were Joyce Jones, president; Mary Yount, Secretary-Treasurer; and Carolyn Snapp, vice-president.

French Club

Defrayed costs of travel; promoted new honor club

Singing Christmas carols in French was a unique experience for members Connie Witt, Marilou Edmiston, and Sharon George.

Sending students to France and Canada for study was the primary goal of South High's French Club. Expenses for the trips were defrayed by the selling of candy and ice cream bars. Beginning this year, students could also earn points toward membership in an honor club — Jeunes Americaines de Française. In order to join, the student had to earn one hundred points through participation in the activities of the regular French Club and to maintain a B-average in three semesters of French or an A-average in two semesters. All JAF meetings were conducted entirely in French — including the programs which were a review of topics to be considered for the following years. The purpose of the club was to learn to speak the language more effectively and to gain a better understanding of French culture.

French Club officers were Diana Tracy, president, Vonda Berry, secretary, Dianne Lantz, vice-president, and Nila Walker, treasurer.

Latin Club

Wore authentic Roman togas, tunics to banquet

Promoting interest in a classical language and the study of the early Roman era was the underlying purpose of Latin Club activities. State and national conventions were held annually, and this year members traveled to Great Bend, location of the state convention. Participation in Saturnalia, a celebration of Christmas which was formerly an old pagan Roman holiday, a bowling party, and the sponsorship of a Mardi Gras booth enabled students to lighten the atmosphere of study. Again this year, a state-wide newspaper, "The Nuntius," was published to which South High's reporter Pat Cole made regular reports. The club was affiliated with the national and state Junior Classical League.

Sydney Martin and Elizabeth Thiry wore traditional Roman costumes to Latin Saturnalia at Wichita Heights.

Spanish Club

Broke Christmas piñata; filled box for servicemen

An increased membership in Spanish Club partook this year of everything from contests to an annual club dinner at the El Charro restaurant. Conversations, themes, and extemporaneous speeches were three divisions of the festival which was held at Wichita State University. Judges graded upon the participant's pronunciation and fluency. Besides the dressup dinner, members planned a spring picnic at Watson Park, and celebrated Christmas by breaking the traditional Spanish piñata. Sending a box filled with snack food, socks, and writing materials to a group of servicemen was one of the club's Christmas projects. They also won second place in the religious category of the hall decoration competition.

Spanish Club officers were Candy Stauber, secretary-treasurer; Sherry Nelson, president; and Christy Hendricks, vice-president.

Assisted by sponsor Miss Judy Phipps (Top Left) Spanish Club members Kathy Hoaglan, Cheryl Turner, and Cheryl Blair made a pinata for the Christmas holidays.

Karate Club

Instructed in principles of balance, self-defense

Sounds of HUH! HUH!, forceful expulsions of one's breath uttered before striking, often marked the opening of this club's meetings since their sessions consisted entirely of physical workouts or lectures. Traditionally a Japanese sport, Karate is an art of self-defense and to most is a very serious activity. However, the students at South who practiced its movements engaged in it primarily to participate in an activity not offered in the school curriculum and to enable each to take better care of themselves defensively. Still in its first year, the one-hundred person membership promised to surpass that of any other school club. Numbering approximately sixty, girls were a surprising majority in membership. South High's Karate club is the only one of its kind in Wichita.

Members of the girls' Karate Club observed as sponsor Artie Dillon instructed their fellow members Mary Stork and Janet McCaffree on how to suppress their enemies.

Archery Club

Organized for first time; aimed at improving marks

The proverbial axiom "I shot an arrow into the air, it fell to earth I knew not where," did not apply to the marksmanship of the members of Archery club. Early morning meetings, often bi-weekly, were spent in practice sessions, attempting to improve the skill of the archers and to provide additional recreational shooting. Membership in the club was limited to twenty persons, and this number was easily reached. The club was supported enthusiastically although this was only the second year the sport had been offered in the curriculum, and the first year the club had been organized. South and North high schools were the only two schools in the city to sponsor such a club.

Club members Ken Ellard and Bob Keesee and sponsor Elmer Carpenter examined new archery equipment.

Twenty Pep Club members with the most honor pep points were treated to a special breakfast at the end of football season.

Pep Club

Encouraged school spirit by initiation of honor club

Girls active in South High's Pep Club had a chance this year to earn points toward the distinction of an honor pin or other emblem to wear on their uniform. Decorating the halls before games, attending poster parties, and supporting teams were all methods of accumulating points. At the end of the football season there was also a breakfast at the Pancake House for those who earned the greatest number of points. Besides the traditional homecoming dance and ceremony, Pep Club members sponsored "Come September," the first dance of the year. A dinner with West High before the South-West basketball game enabled members of both clubs to become acquainted before the rivalry of the game.

Pep Club officers were (Seated) Sherrie Durham, senior council member; Gloria Ellis, art director; Cathi Madill, sophomore council member; Sherry Byers, junior council member. (Standing) Kris Knuth, president; René Rimel, senior council member; Diane Clark, vice-president; Sherry Bergen, junior council member; and Gail Bourk, sophomore council member. Not Pictured: Pam Blubaugh, secretary.

"Only 2,000 flowers to go!" sighed Judy Fulbright to Becky Stricklin while working on the homecoming float.

Senior Pep Club members Nila Walker, Kay Walker, Linda Jordan, Patty McHenry, and Janice Burkett enthusiastically displayed their support of the team.

Cheerleaders

Awarded top recognition during national competition

Leading yells and conducting a sophomore clinic filled only a part of the busy hours of South's varsity cheerleaders. During the summer they spent one week at a national cheerleading clinic held in Dallas at Southern Methodist University. Our team returned from the competition with one first place, three seconds, and an honorable mention. This year the girls washed cars, defeated the KWBB Hot Shots in a comic basketball game, and sponsored a rummage sale in order to earn money for the trip to next summer's competition. Sophomore cheerleaders paid for new basketball uniforms by being slaves in the cafeteria for one week. They performed such trivial tasks as carrying trays and getting glasses of water for their lazier fellow students.

Lettermen

Financed summer trip; co-sponsored needy family

Promotion of athletics and school spirit was the goal of lettermen, and membership in the club was an honor and a responsibility. Each member was the owner of one or more letters, and even after formal acceptance, had to maintain certain standards of behavior. Activities abounded. During the Halloween season the boys sold candy to finance a trip for two members to Estes Park, Colorado, for a summer session at the Fellowship of Christian Athletes Camp. At Christmas they co-sponsored a needy family; at the end of each sports season they held initiation for new members. Other activities included maintaining concession stands at home games, a basketball throw at Mardi Gras, and a spring picnic for members and their dates.

Colonelettes

Exhibited precision, agility during public performance

Girls interested in becoming a member of Colonelettes literally "played for their points." Before joining, each girl could earn points through participating in after school sports which included tennis, volleyball, softball, hockey, track, gymnastics, archery, and bowling. Both the modern dance show and the synchronized swim show contributed toward the hundred points necessary for membership and a letter. After attaining this goal, girls could go on to work toward the extra 70 points needed for a sweater and from there toward membership in the 800-point club. One new event was the 50 mile swim. This was developed to increase endurance by swimming various lengths.

Colonelette officers were Glenda Biggerstaff, vice-president; Eilene Antoine, president; Janet Colvin, intramural manager; Gwen Kent, secretary-treasurer; and Joyce Jones, publicity chairman.

Band, Orchestra

Provided accompaniment; competed in area contest

Bach, Wagner, Lerner and Lowe—all are composers well-known to the students of South High's concert band and orchestra. In addition to formal concerts, instrumentalists participated in various area music contests. Experimental classes which practiced chamber music resulted in approximately twenty ensembles being entered in the city music contest. Led by four new twirlers, the band presented five half-time football shows which ran the gamut of marching techniques. Learning intricate rhythms and coordinating them with solo voices for "West Side Story" developed each orchestra member's appreciation for the technicalities involved in presenting a Broadway musical.

Offered civic programs; entered state competition

Learning to perform before large audiences, gaining an appreciation of all types of music, and presenting programs for various civic organizations was the purpose and advantage of being a member of a vocal group. Choices of membership included Choir, Sophomore Glee Club, Mixed Chorus, Southern Belles, and Musettes. Combining, the singers gave spring and fall concerts, and Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter assemblies. Southern Belles and Musettes, selective ensembles, highlighted their year with performances before such groups as the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Green Thumb Club. They climaxed the year by the presentation of the Sweetheart Concert on February 13. Long range engagements for South vocalists included a musical program at the 1968 Chamber of Commerce dinner.

ATHLETES are a class of people apart. They alone know the racing pulse, the churning deep inside that marks the anticipation of coming competition. Sports — an ecstasy of victory or emptiness of defeat.

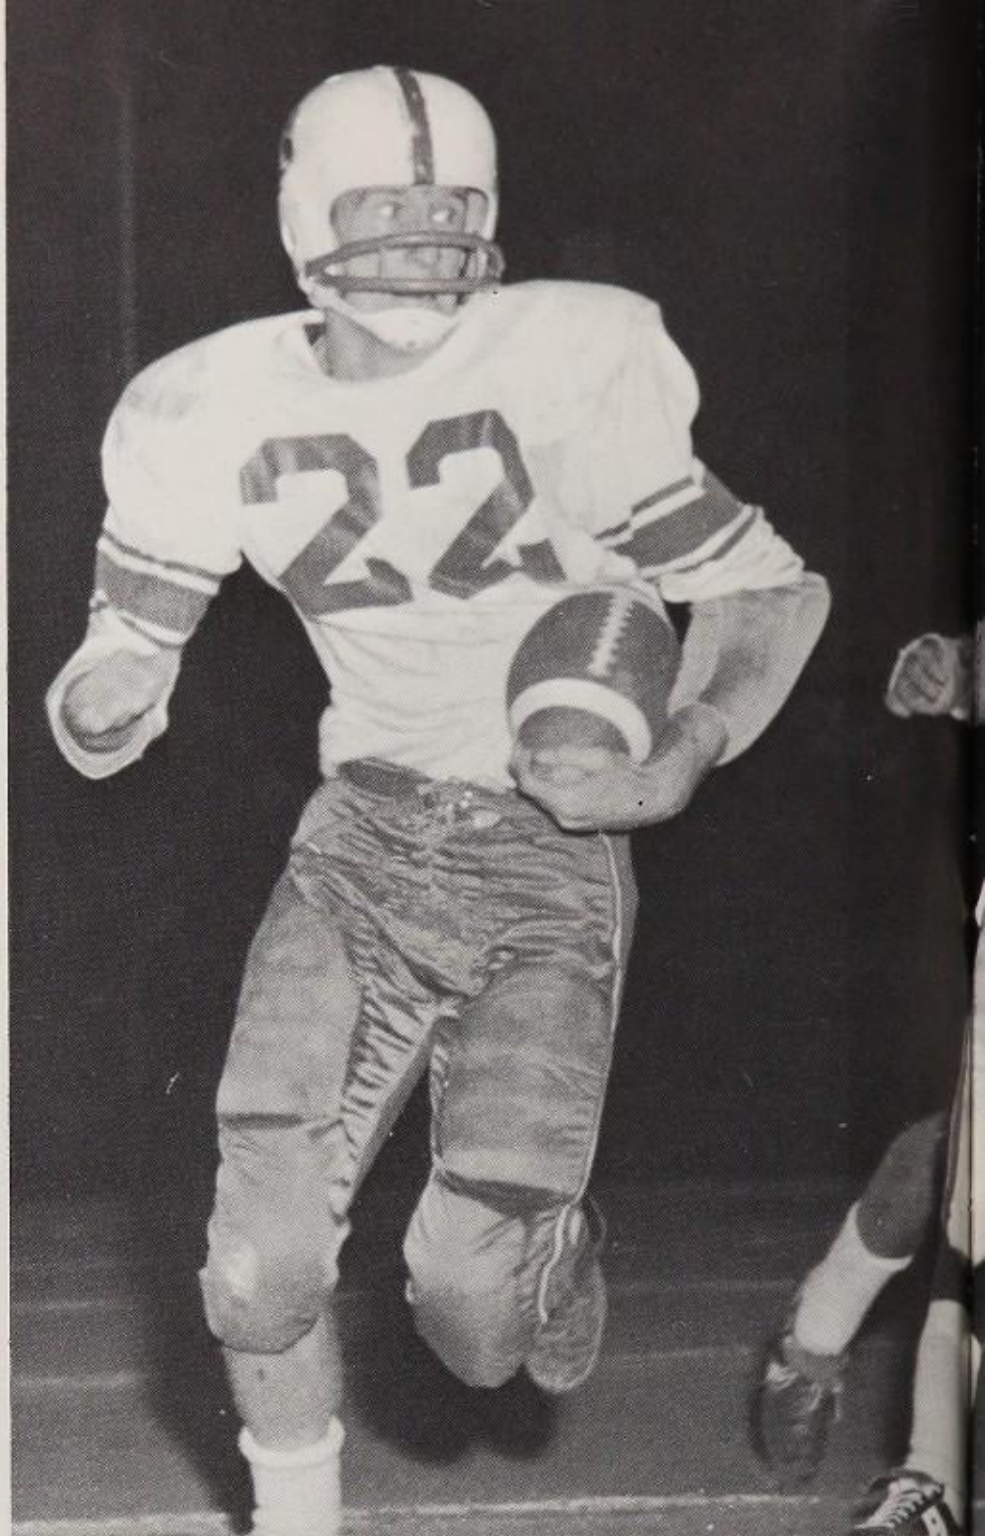

Football

Team's season highlighted by Kapaun, Carroll wins

Despite a disappointing 2-7 record, the Colonel football season was highlighted by a well-deserved 34-25 victory over Kapaun. In the opening game of the season, however, South lost a two point decision to Winfield. Defeated by North the following week, South came back to roll over Kapaun. Southeast, Mulvane, West, and Heights dealt the Colonels four consecutive defeats. South then bounced back and stunned Bishop Carroll 40-13. The last game of the season was a disappointment as East soundly whitewashed South 48-6. There were 21 lettermen including 6 juniors. Gerry Morton and Jerry Sirmans were selected for honorable mention on the all-city team.

Senior Jack Houser outran several Falcon defenders to pick up extra yardage during the South-Heights encounter.

Minor Football

Teams prepared players for varsity competition

By battling their way to two ties against Heights and Kapaun, South's "B" team rounded out the season with an unimpressive 0-4-2 record. The junior varsity, however, paced by the daring running of Ron Bonebrake and the quarterbacking of Kent Shurtleff, showed some encouragement as the majority of their losses were by narrow margins. The sophomore squad triumphed over East and Bishop Carroll for its victories and compiled a 2-5 seasonal record. Relying upon the strength of linemen Chris Hughes and Bob Bucheit, both of whom saw some varsity action, South's sophomore team revealed promise as they began preparation for future varsity competition. Rounding out the sophomore attack was quarterback Mike Morrison and halfback Jerry Martin.

Basketball

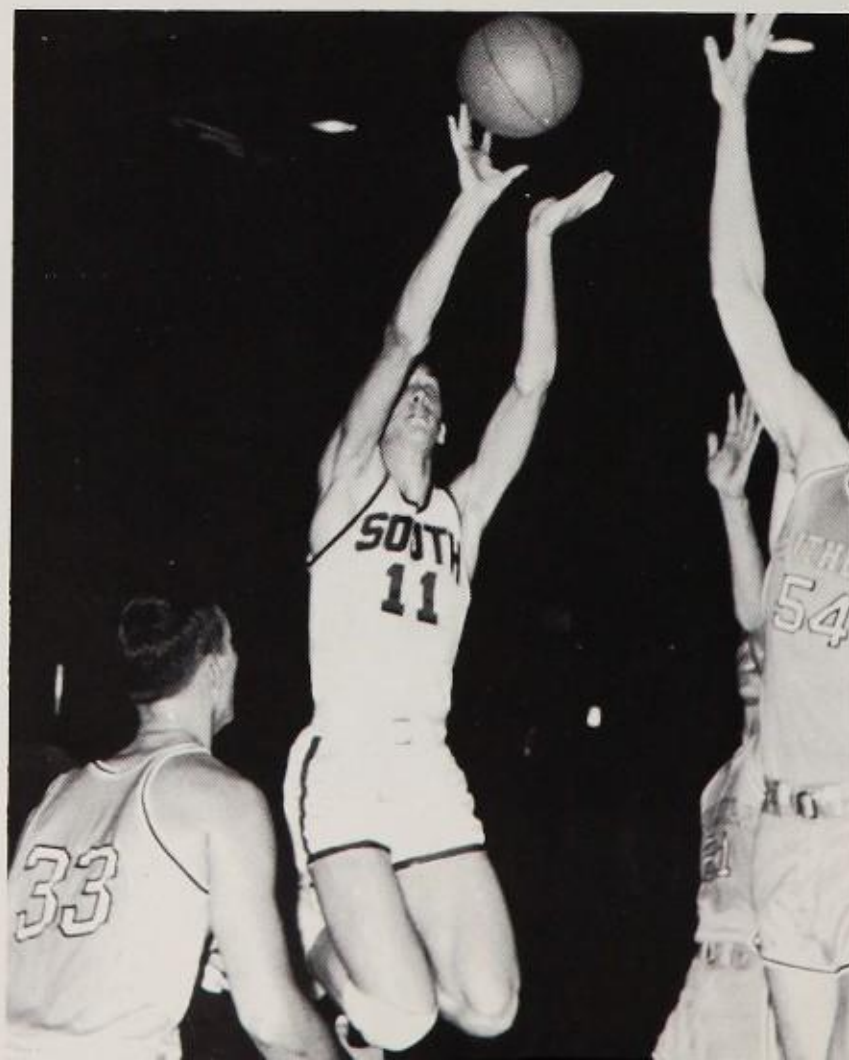

Ranked 4th in city play; runner-up in invitational

By compiling a 13-9 seasonal record, South's basketball team completed a winning season and at times looked very impressive. After a slow start, the Colonel roundballers won several consecutive victories to place second in the West High Invitational tournament and fourth in the city league. Senior cagers Mike Fluty, Paul Hartsel, Allan Wiggans, Gerry Morton, and juniors Van VanDuesen and Stan Morton provided the initial drives which enabled South to have a winning season. There were six lettermen which included two juniors. Gerry Morton was chosen as the most inspirational player at an end of the year dinner, while Mike Fluty and Gerry Morton were chosen for the second team All-City.

Junior center Van VanDuesen battled for rebound possession with Kapaun's Arlandus Lowe.

Mike Fluty lofted a short jump shot over the outstretched hand of 6'10 Randy Canfield of Southeast.

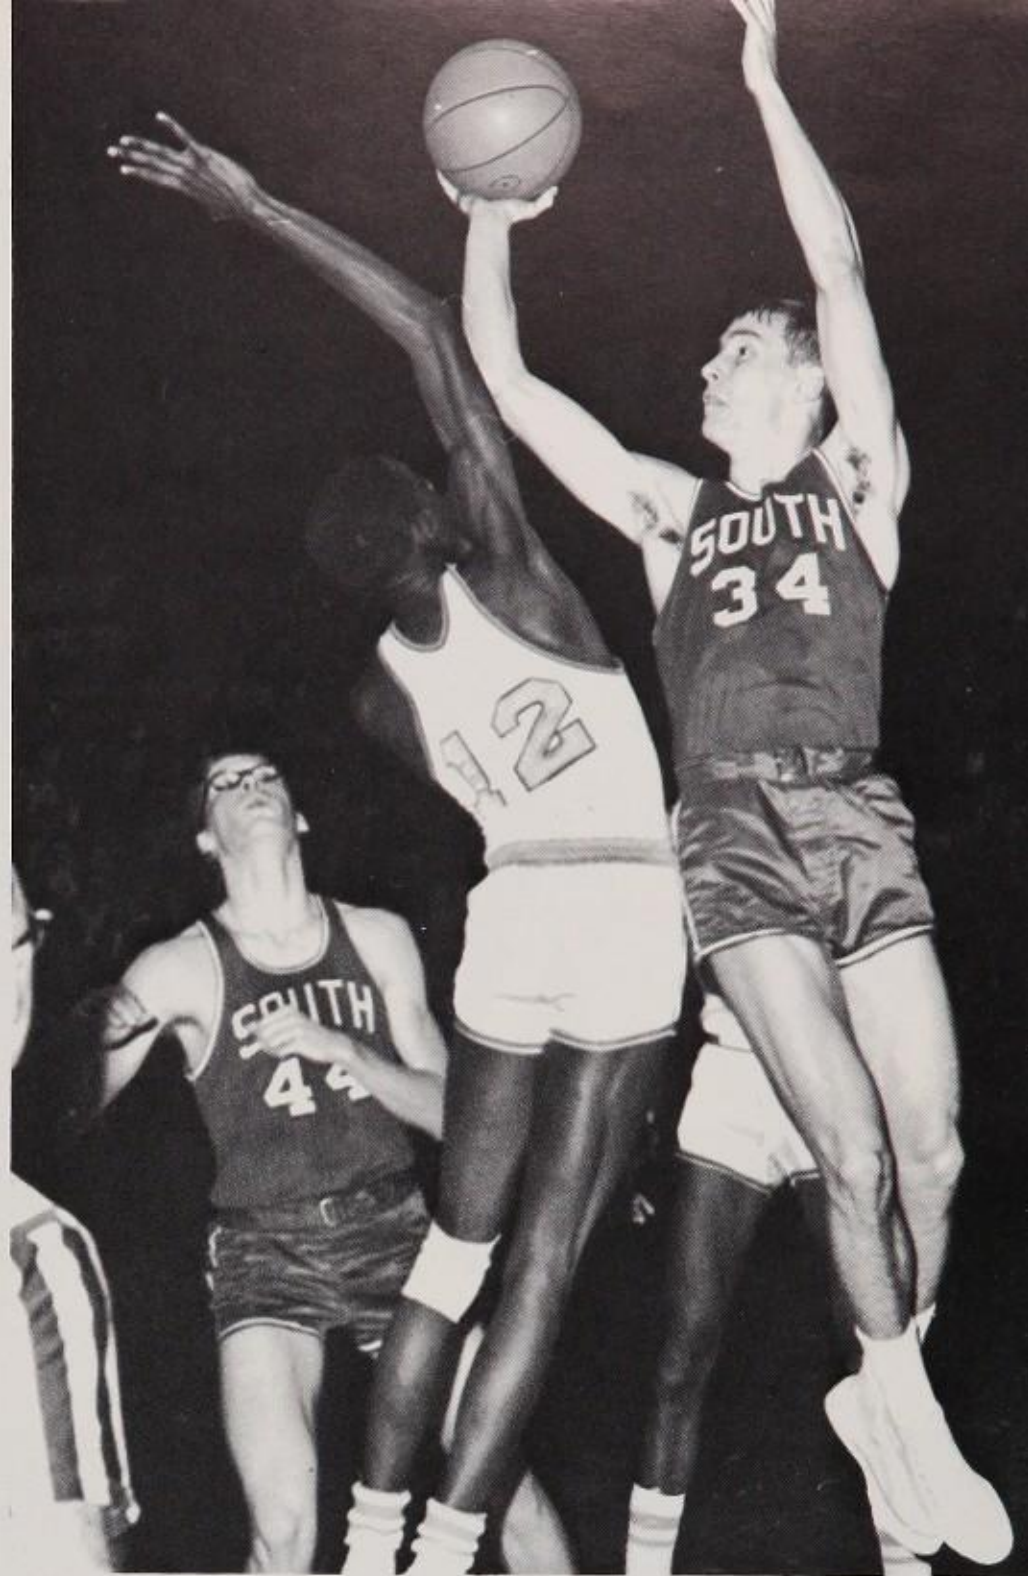

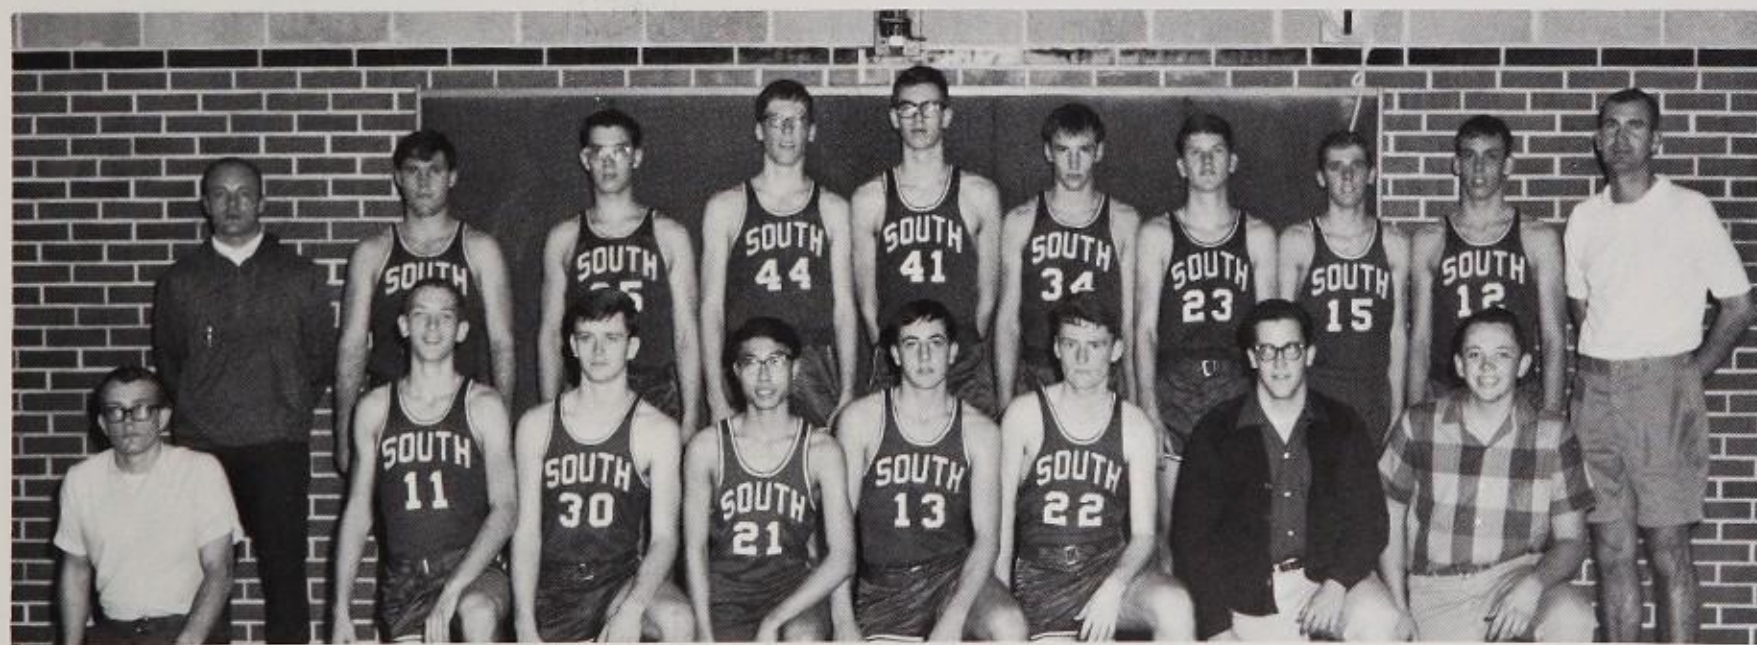

Junior forward Kent Shurtleff received instructions from Coach Brumback before entering the South-West game.

Raiders, Cadets

Gain game experience for varsity competition

Overcoming early season setbacks, the Colonel "B" team reached its peak at mid-season by compiling a six-game winning streak. Led by Jack Oliver, Kent Shurtleff, Dan Stewart, Ray Knaack, Clifford Jones, Barry Tinnius, and Bob Bucheit, the Raiders finished with a 10-6 won-loss record. Sophomores Mike Morrison and Roger Gutzmer gained valuable experience in the closing games of the season. Oliver, Shurtleff, Tinnius, and Bucheit also participated in several varsity contests. South's sophomore team, the Cadets, wound up the year with a 9-7 record. The Cadet season was highlighted by a second place finish in the South Invitational and an upset victory over previously undefeated West.

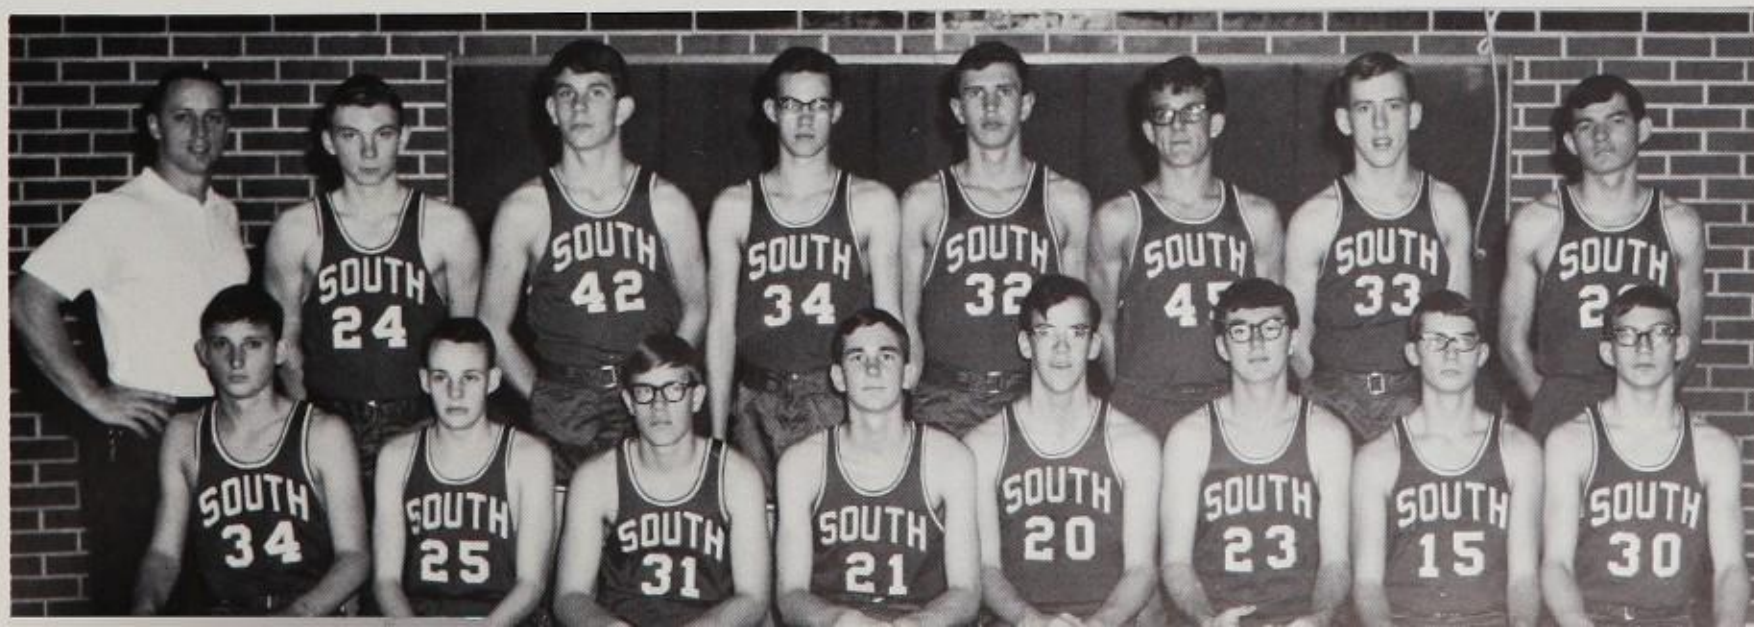

Sophomore Roger Jeter attempted a jump shot over the outstretched hands of his West High opponent.

Given time to set, Clifford Jones was deadly from the corner as he proved in this contest against East.

Wrestling

Individual efforts paced grapplers' season wins

Colonel matmen compiled an overall seasonal record of three wins and five losses in completing a respectable season. South's grapplers defeated West, Southeast, and Douglass for their victories while losing several other close matches. Despite an average team showing, certain individual wrestlers had outstanding performances. Seniors Jim Post, Danny Krouskup, and John Slayton paced the wrestling team while juniors Larry Woodward, Mike Niedens, and Henry Ayala completed the varsity attack. Harry Page and Terry Waite led the "B" team and showed much potential. Jim Post was the only wrestler who went to the state meet where he lost his first match. There were 16 lettermen including five juniors.

Swimming

Overcame dual setbacks; won berth in state meet

Defeated in a number of dual meets, South's finmen overcame several setbacks to capture first place at the Campus Invitational. Bruce Bove, Duane Ross, and Doug Pickard, along with a relay team, qualified for the state swim meet and placed 3rd, 4th, and 6th in their respective events. Bove garnered a 3rd place in the 400-yard freestyle, Ross took 4th and 5th places in the 100-yard backstroke and the 200-yard individual medley, while Pickard captured 6th in diving. A relay composed of Jerry Liebst, Scott Zimmerman, Gaylord DeMoure, and Tom Turner placed seventh in the state meet. Boys who lettered in swimming included Bove, Ross, Pickard, Jack Houser, David Roy, J. Liebst, Turner, David Cook, Steve Saunders, DeMoure, Zimmerman, and C. Liebst.

1966-67 Swim Team: Top Row: E. Lundgren, M. Traner, C. Liebst, G. Stoddard, E. Hanson, J. Liebst, T. Turner, R. Bottorff, D. Cook, G. DeMoure, R. Schwartz, Coach Deardorff. Bottom Row: L. Saunders, D. Ross,

Junior Mike Traner displayed excellent form as he did a back dive.

Coach Deardorff recorded the times of each swimmer throughout the entire season.

Bruce Bove was determined to lengthen his lead in the 400-yard freestyle as he edged closer to the finish of the race.

J. Houser, B. Bove, D. Roy, D. Pickard, S. Saunders, R. Hicke. Top Row: D. Fiechtner, B. Marquand, C. Kullman, S. Zimmerman, M. Shattuck, K. Ellard, D. Hawk, R. Roy.

Jerry Liebst, a sophomore swimmer, showed a lot of promise and determination as he competed in the varsity swim meets.

Senior finman Duane Ross displayed the form which enabled him to place among the top swimmers in every meet.

Doug Pickard performed a difficult dive in an effort to receive more points in the diving competition.

Cross Country

Individual performances surpassed previous marks

Although the Colonel cross-country team did not place as high in the meets as anticipated, individual efforts were much improved. New records for the two-mile run were established by senior Sam Peluso, junior Lyndal Bryan, and sophomores Larry Sawyer and Brad Pearce in times of 10:35, 10:48.8, 11:09.3, and 11:05.7 respectively. Varsity harriers were paced by Sam Peluso, Tom Lind, Pat Blanchard, Jim Westover, and Lyndal Bryan. The "B" team was led by Steve Saunders, Larry Sawyer, Marc Neifing, and Ron Griffith. Lettermen included Pat Blanchard, Tom Lind, Sam Peluso, and Lyndal Bryan. This season marked a new era of outstanding individual participation and personal pride.

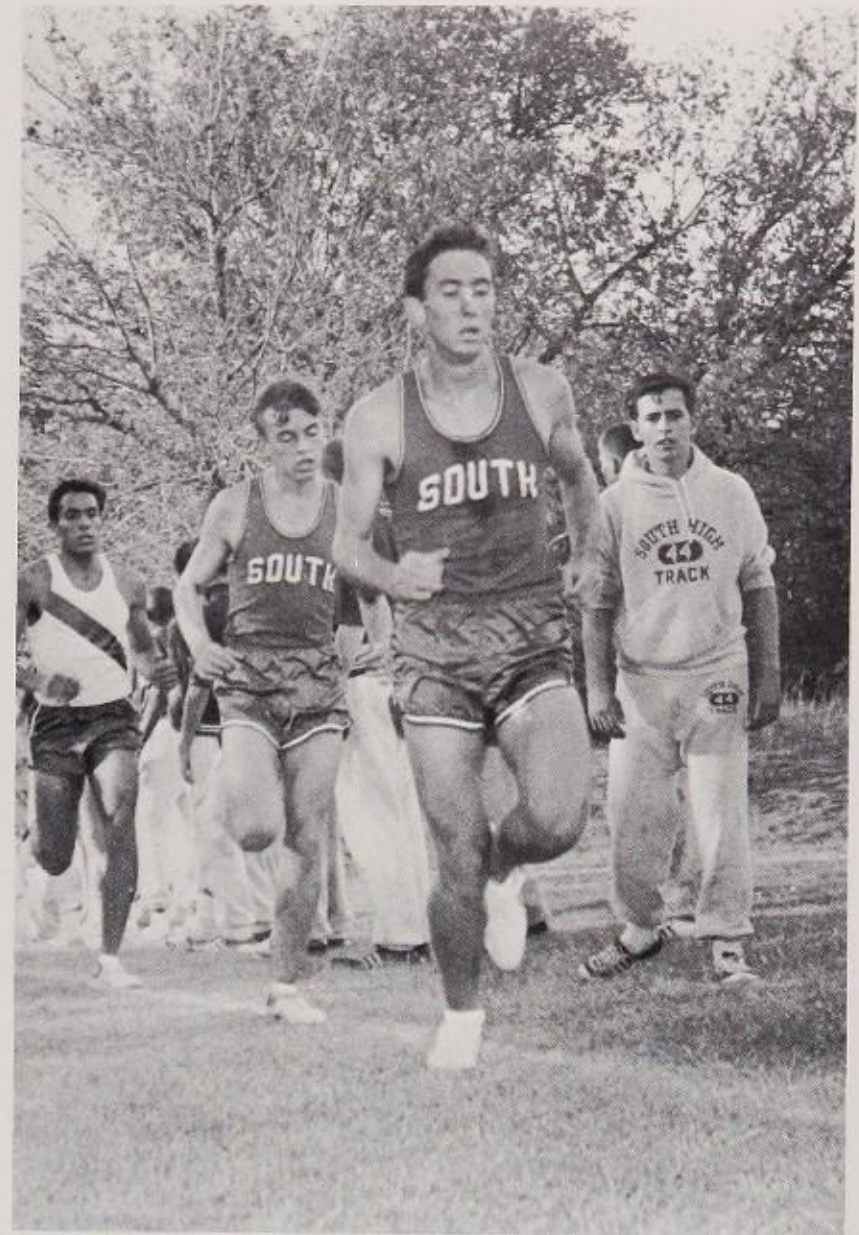

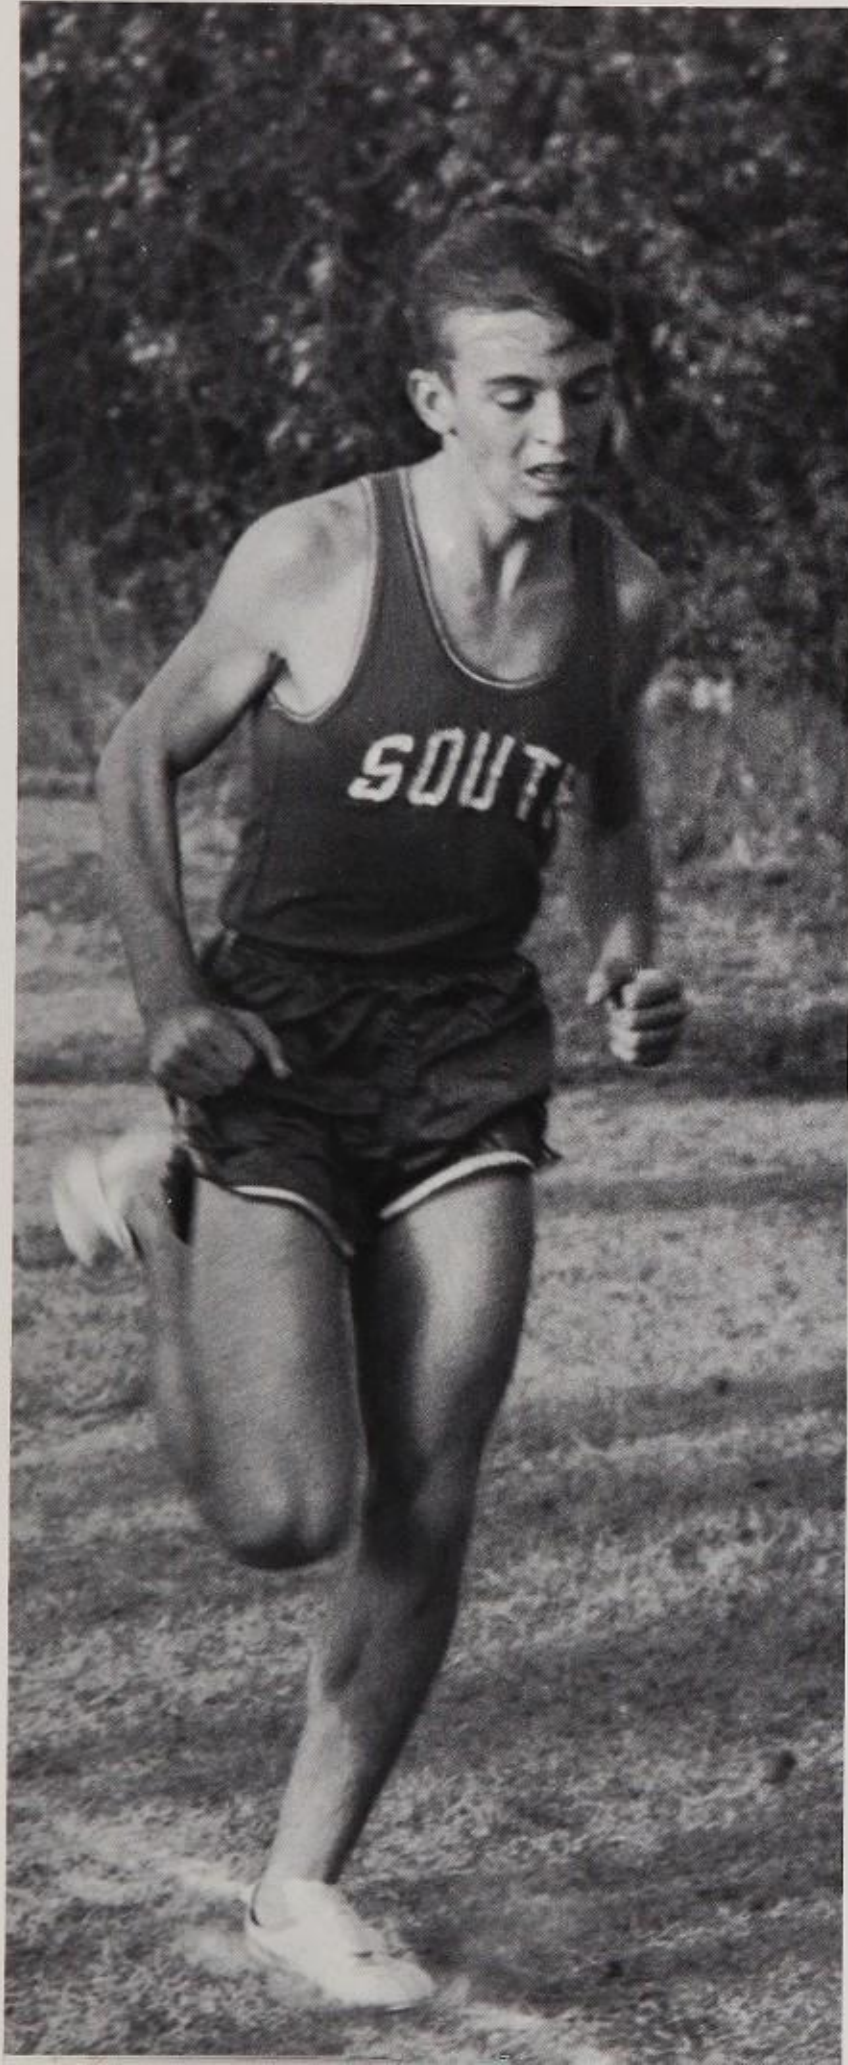

Coach John Deardorff discussed pre-race strategy with senior Jim Westover before the Southeast Invitational.

The many hours of practice paid off for junior Lyndal Bryan as he placed among the top runners in the Southeast Invitational.

Senior Sam Peluso, followed closely by junior Lyndal Bryan led at the early stages of the two-mile run held at Sims Park.

South's cross-country team anxiously awaited the start of the Wichita City League Meet held at Echo Hills.

Gymnastics

Took first in city league; garnered second at state

Completing a season highlighted by taking two first- and two second-place trophies, South's boys' gymnastics team finished first in the city and second in both the regional and state meets. Individual performances were among the best recorded in the state. Seniors Stan Clyne, John Brouillette, Gerald Carley, Bob Pitzer, Terry Hall, and Greg Greider contributed heavily to the Colonel cause while Norman Wiles, Donnie Lemons, Mike Strong, and Tom Magill gave the Colonels extra depth. In the state meet, Brouillette took first on the side horse and Clyne captured first in tumbling. There were twelve lettermen.

Completing the movements of a double leg cut-off, Terry Hall prepared to swing into a hand stand during an agile work-out.

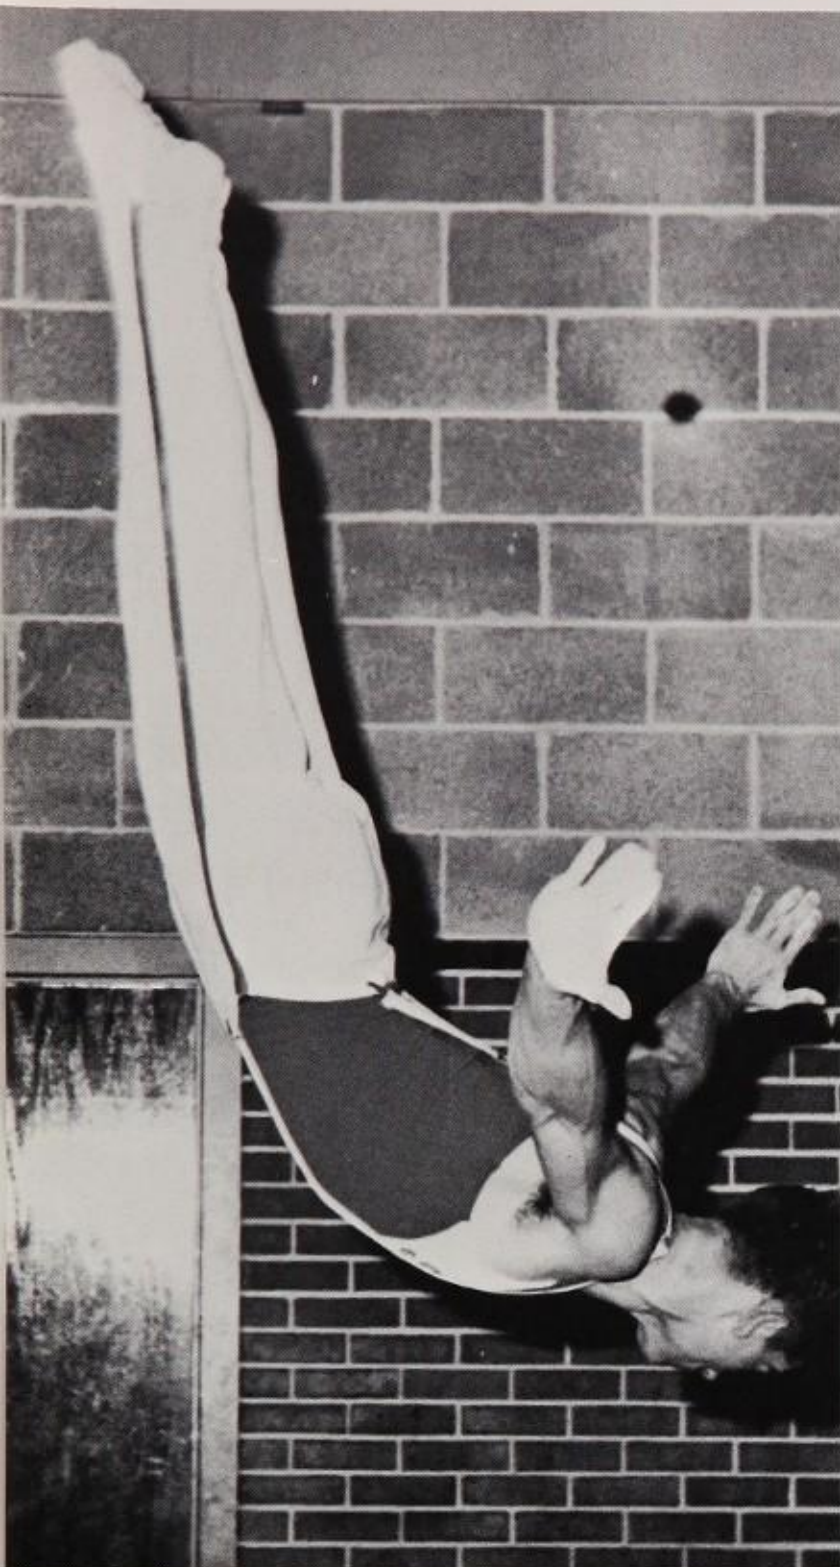

Senior gymnast Gerald Carley displayed the superb form which enabled him to garner a sixth place finish on the still rings in the state meet.

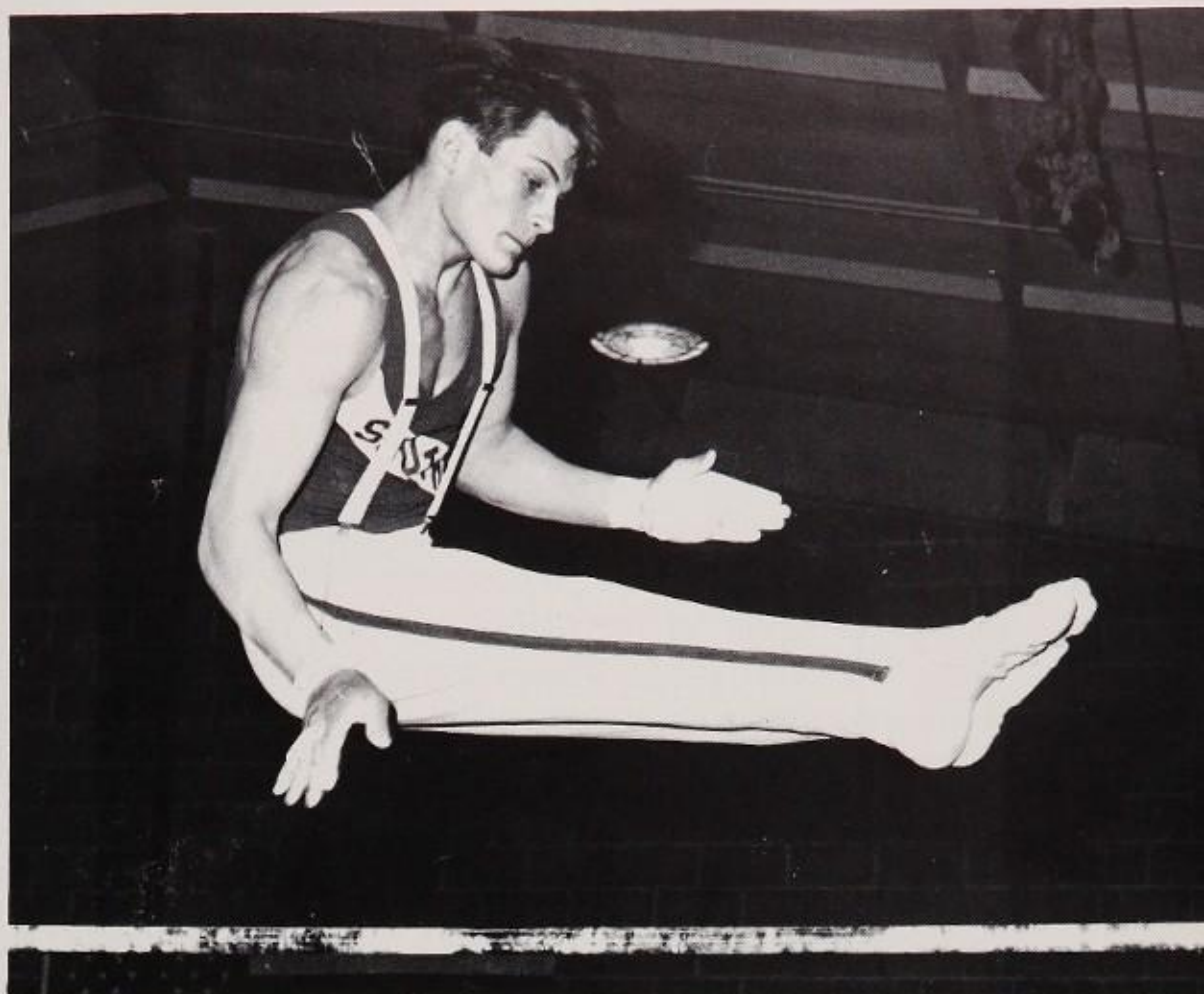

Coach Oswald guided the Colonel gymnasts to a first place finish in the city by giving advice to each individual gymnast.

Stan Clyne, state champion in tumbling, performed a difficult maneuver during his free exercise routine.

State champion John Brouillette showed the skill and coordination that he used effectively during his parallel bar routine.

Norman Wiles, junior letterman, successfully attempted a vault over the high bar.

Girls' Gymnastics

Placed 5th at first meet; displayed skills at WSU

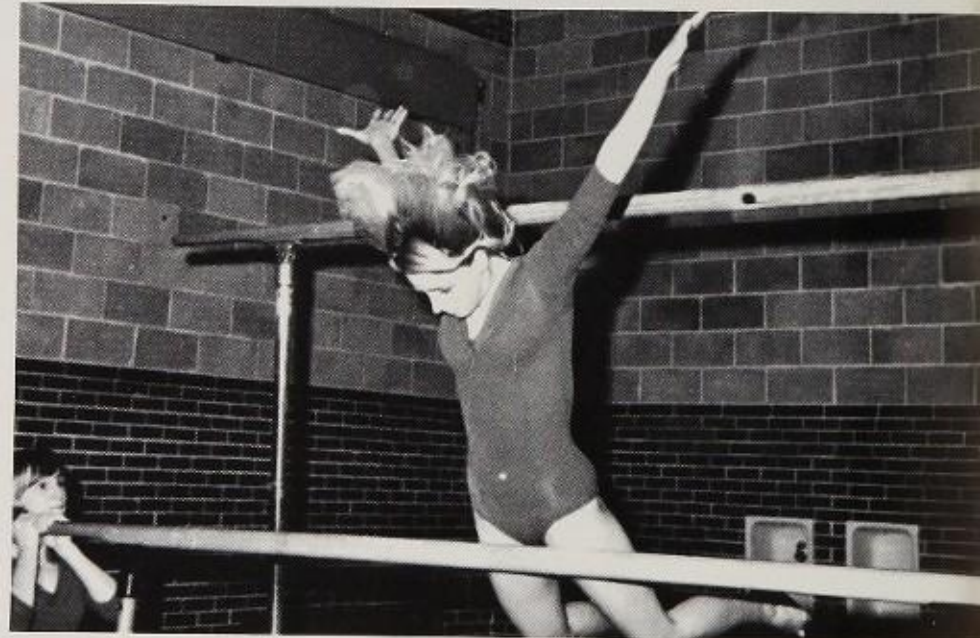

Members of South's girls' gymnastic team performed at a college basketball game and for the North High Girls Sports Club, demonstrated gymnastic routines for Hutchinson physical education classes, and competed in a meet hosted by Washburn Rural High School. Beside performing in each of the regular events, the girls added a ball routine to their program for the half-time of the Wichita State University-San Diego basketball game. Among the nine schools participating at the Topeka meet, South placed fifth. Ava Walters and Becky Robinson placed sixth and seventh respectively on the uneven parallel bars; Debbie Dobbs and Nancy Wimberly placed sixth and ninth on the balance beam; Fredda Geary was first in floor exercise; and Eileen Antoine tied for sixth in vaulting.

During a practice session, Diane Clark performed a front walkover.

Eileen Antoine demonstrated the proper procedure of vaulting over the long horse.

Becky Robinson displayed a difficult move on the uneven parallel bars.

Baseball lettermen Jim McClaren, Terry Hall, and Tom Irland expected to finish among the top teams in the city.

Linksmen Rockie Dorsett, David Mattingly, Mike Fluty, and Dan Green hoped for an improvement over last year's season.

Cindermen Eddie Wong, Jack Houser, Tom Lind, Gerry Morton, Greg Grieder, Sam Peluso, and Randy Eaton anticipated a fine track season with nine lettermen returning.

Spring Preview

Teams worked to improve previous league standings

As spring approached, South High athletes prepared for the coming spring sports. Although there were only three returning lettermen in baseball, the team was expected to do well. South has always been strong in track, and this year should be no exception. With nine returning lettermen, the team was expected to display depth in the running events. This year's tennis team anticipated a fine season as many experienced players returned. With the potential of this year's golf team greater than in previous years, expectations of a successful season for the linksmen prevailed. As a whole, South High athletes hoped to improve their league standings over the past year's performances.

Lettermen John Wong, Ray Peterson, Harry Laudermilk, and Ernie Melrose looked forward to a successful tennis season.

STUDENTS

NOT of one mind or of one purpose, but with one common goal — to broaden the achievement and heighten the status of their school. In work and in play, two thousand individuals merged to reflect an image of unity.

Seniors

Joined to meet challenge during year of graduation

A senior year—our senior year. A promise that only the future would fulfill—and suddenly the future is today. Behind us is the eagerness and awkwardness of our sophomore year; the excitement of attending our first football game coupled with the panicky realization that grades were now earned, not given. Gone were the proud moments of our junior year when we first wore our class rings. In the past, too, lies the notorious junior research theme, that product of so many midnight hours. This was the last year — the climax. This year was the one in which each senior felt the need to see everything, do everything, and go everywhere. Each activity took on a special significance because it was the last game, the last Mardi Gras, the last final, and the last official senior duty — receiving a high school diploma.

IN MEMORIAM

The night of December 17, 1966 was warm and the air filled with the atmosphere of Christmas gaiety. That Saturday night was like every other Saturday night—then, the tragic automobile accident occurred.

The following Monday morning brought the realization to many that those few fateful seconds had destroyed more than a structure of steel and rubber. Losing senior Claudine Parsons left an emptiness; the vacant chair in each of her classes, the quietness in the sorrowing home, a loneliness in the hearts of her friends. There are tomorrows that she will never live, but she had lived the past to its fullest extent. Although Claudine is no longer with us as she was—vibrant, youthful, sincere—for those of us who knew her the memories of her will long be remembered and her gentle spirit will carry into our own tomorrows.

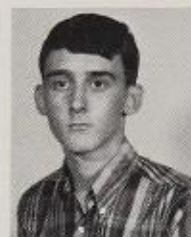

Juniors

Widened responsibilities; developed mature outlook

From youth to maturity—from followers to leaders; that is a junior year. Individuals of this class discovered that the junior year was the one in which they found themselves. For many, the self-consciousness and strangeness of a sophomore year was replaced by a feeling of self-assurance. Familiarity with the halls and customs of South enabled juniors to participate freely and confidently in any activity. They accepted responsibility and learned that the success of such projects as the magazine sales depended solely upon the mature use of this responsibility. The success of "Moonlight and Roses," the junior-senior prom, proved that their class was ready to assume the leadership which would be theirs the following year. With the symbolic turning of rings, juniors assumed the duties and privileges of the graduating class of 1968.

Sophomores

Adjusted to new demands of high school curriculum

Eager, excited, and just a little bewildered — this was a typical sophomore. For each one, this year was a type of beginning; a time to experience all the activities that are a part of the high school years. Memories of the first rousing pep assembly, the hush as the curtain opened for the first play, the gaiety of the halls at Christmas, and the chuckles the first time Shakespeare was read aloud in class, were all parts of that beginning year at South. This was not only a time of experience but a time of adjustment. Each sophomore found that high school offered a wider range of possibilities for participation and education — but each also found that he had to adjust himself to the more active schedule. By the end of the year, sophomores discovered that they had changed, they were truly ready to become upper classmen.

Getting a driver's license was one of the most important events in the lives of sophomores.

result, Chinese split . . .
to sleep, perchance to dream . . .

anyone for tennis? . . .
security was mastering a trade for the future . . .

shifting scenes

'twas spring, and a young man's fancy turned to thoughts of shiny chrome bumpers...

"They say if you kiss the right sweetheart, beneath the Sweetheart Tree..."

Presentation of an award; a radio station recognized a student's efforts...

brushstrokes of creativity...

On The Move . . .

As a child he seldom wondered what the future would bring; toys, sticky suckers, dirt occupied his time . . . then he grew and moved into the years of grade cards, playgrounds, and comic books . . . still the years passed and the motion of time tossed him into the storm-ridden, romance-filled teens. Here he flitted from friendship to friendship, interest to interest, until he suddenly realized that he had reached a crossroad in life, and it was time to decide what the future would bring. A decision, a choice, a tear or a smile—and then he moved on.
